Introduction to Hampden-Sydney

THE COLLEGE

Hampden-Sydney College, a liberal-arts college for men now enrolling 650 students, has been in continuous operation since January, 1776. Affiliated with the Presbyterian Church in the United States, it is located in the heart of Virginia near Farmville.

Its aim is to give to selected young men of ability a broad understanding of the world and man's place in it from the standpoint of the sciences and the humanities; to develop clear thinking through linguistic, scientific, and historical studies; to impart a comprehension of man's social institutions as a basis for the exercise of intelligent citizenship in a democracy; to unite sound scholarship with the principles and practice of the Christian religion; and to equip those with special interests and capacities for graduate study and research.

The campus consists of a wooded tract of 600 acres on which appropriate buildings, valued at $6,750,000, have been erected. The college is supported by an endowment of $4,000,000 and by annual gifts from alumni, friends, the Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges and the Synod of Virginia.

The college holds membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the Association of Virginia Colleges, the Association of American Colleges, the Southern University Conference, the College Entrance Examination Board, and the College Scholarship Service.

Hampden-Sydney is a charter member of the University Center in Virginia, a cooperative unit of twenty-four of the strongest educational institutions of Virginia.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

The need for an educational institution with the location and general character of Hampden-Sydney College arose from certain forces that developed in the Virginia Colony in the last half of the eighteenth century. First among these was the organization, in 1775, of the Presbytery of Hanover, which covered not only Virginia and the Carolinas, but extended even over a large part of the territory which later formed the State of Ohio. The task of organizing and developing this extensive presbytery was assigned to a talented young clergyman of Delaware, Samuel Davies, who, after notable evangelistic work in Virginia, was called to succeed Jonathan Edwards as president of the College of New Jersey, and to John Todd, great-uncle of Mary Todd, the wife of Abraham Lincoln.

As a result of the labors of these leaders and their fellow workers the influence of active Presbyterianism soon began to be felt in Virginia. In the southern and central sections of the colony this sprang from a union of Scotch-Irish elements in Charlotte and Prince Edward counties with a mingling of English, Welsh, and Huguenot groups in Cumberland and Prince Edward, among whom the dissenting point of view in religion and a growing liberalism in political thought developed side by side. Among these groups the need for educational opportunity was keenly felt. The College of William and Mary, the only seat of higher learning in Virginia, was somewhat remote from the central and southern sections of the colony. This college was mainly under the influence of the Church of England; and, furthermore, as the hostility between the Colonies and the Home Government became more intense and threatening, it was thought that its location in a region of military camps, one that was likely to become the scene of future conflict, made its educational outlook unfavorable.

The Presbyterian clergy of central Virginia and the families of their congregations, feeling strongly the need of an educational institution for their youth, had made some unsuccessful efforts in this direction as early as 1772. In October, 1774, the Presbytery of Hanover resumed the undertaking. A plan for subscriptions to the cause was set up and the erection of an academy was authorized in 1775 on a tract of ninety-eight acres of land donated by Peter Johnston, a native of Edinburgh, who had been among the early settlers in Prince Edward County. The Old College Building, a two-story brick structure, was reared on the plot of ground slightly to the north of the present Hampden House. According to the original plan, the school was to be opened in November of 1775, but owing to delay in the completion of the building, a slight postponement was necessary. The formal opening took place on January 1, 1776, with 110 students in attendance under the direction of the first Principal, or Rector, the Reverend Samuel Stanhope Smith, a graduate of the College of New Jersey. As the number of students was larger than had been anticipated, it was found necessary to house some of them in temporary structures for the first session.

The institution was first known as both an academy and a college. It has been clearly shown by the researches of the late Dr. Joseph D. Eggleston, former president of the College, that in addition to the preparatory work that was being done, courses of full collegiate grade also were conducted in the first years of the institution's history. President Smith in his opening prospectus stated: "The system of education will resemble that which is adopted in the College of New Jersey, save that a more particular attention will be paid to the English language than is usually done in places of public education." He also announced that strong emphasis would be placed on scientific studies. Moreover, very clear evidence of the definite purpose of the institution "to form good men and good citizens" is found in the early stress given to speech training shown in the wide range of important public questions discussed by the students in their literary and philosophical societies, as well as in the somewhat profound and classical themes presented in their early commencement orations.

The name chosen for the college-academy symbolized the union of civil and religious liberty, the first element being derived from the name of John Hampden, opponent of the "ship money" tax in the time of Charles I, and the second from Algernon Sydney, a defender of religious liberty in the reign of Charles II. In 1783 the institution was regularly chartered as a college by the Virginia House of Delegates. A memorial from the trustees of Hampden-Sydney, suggesting this action, had been presented to the House of Delegates in November, 1776, but as the matter had not yet been urged with sufficient force, the Legislature had delayed in granting the appeal. In 1784 and 1794 tracts of land were donated to the college by the Commonwealth. In fact, it is clear from some of the correspondence between Thomas Jefferson and Joseph Cabell with reference to educational plans for Virginia that Hampden-Sydney was viewed, in its early years, as a definite part of the general educational system of the State and, accordingly, was deserving of some support through public appropriations. At the time of the general movement for the founding of the state university it was even mentioned as one of the possible locations for the institution. Although the college had been launched largely under Presbyterian auspices, it was not formally affiliated with the church. Among its early supporters were many members of the Church of England. The war for independence had aroused a sense of national unity and had increased among citizens of all classes a desire for educational advantages to fit men for the new and broadening opportunities that were opening before them.

From its beginning the college showed willingness to accept its full share of responsibility for the maintenance of the national welfare. On its first board of trustees are found the names of Patrick Henry and James Madison. Among its early alumni were William Henry Harrison, ninth President of the United States, Joseph Cabell, Jefferson's righthand man in his great educational work for Virginia, and William Cabell, the noted physician who attended Patrick Henry in his last illness. The charter of the college declared: "That in order to preserve in the minds of the students that sacred love and attachment which they should bear to the principles of the present glorious revolution, the greatest care and caution should be used in electing of such professors and masters, to the end that no person shall be so elected unless the uniform tenor of his conduct manifests to the world his sincere affection for the liberty and independence of the United States of America." Clear evidence of the reality of this ideal promptly appeared. The first student military company in the country was organized on the campus, and at the threat of an invasion of the colony by the British in 1777, this company marched to Williamsburg under the leadership of Captain John Blair Smith, one of the tutors of the college and a brother of the president. At a later stage of the war a similar march was made to Petersburg. A company was likewise organized on the campus in the War of 1812 and another in the War Between the States. Students and alumni also bore their full part in the Spanish-American War, as they have conspicuously done in the two great world wars and the Korean and Vietnam conflicts of the present century.

In 1779 Samuel Stanhope Smith was called to the faculty of the College of New Jersey (later becoming president as successor to John Witherspoon), and his brother, John Blair Smith, succeeded him in the management of Hampden-Sydney College. Following him came a line of distinguished presidents whose names appear in the "Matters of Record" section of this catalogue. The college was not sectarian, as shown by the appointment of Jonathan P. Cushing, a prominent Episcopal layman, a graduate of Dartmouth College, as president in 1821. During the fourteen years of his administration the greater early enlargements of the physical plant were made. Cushing Hall, now named after the president, was erected in that period as the main college building. The building to the west of this, later known as the "Alamo," had been built in part in 1817 as the home of President Moses Hoge. This was now considerably enlarged. President Cushing's administration was the most significant one during the first half of the nineteenth century. During this period Union Theological Seminary was founded on ground adjoining the college to the south. The Seminary was the outgrowth of the Department of Divinity organized by President Hoge, grandfather of the Reverend Moses D. Hoge, the famous pulpit orator of the Second Presbyterian Church of Richmond, Virginia, from 1845 to 1899. The Seminary became a separate institution in 1823 and continued to operate at this site until its removal in 1898 to its present location at Richmond. Upon the removal of the Seminary, Major Richard M. Venable purchased and donated to the college the academic buildings and three residences.

The Seminary buildings, erected in the period between 1823 and 1880, occupied the ridge on the south side of the campus. These buildings included the central structure which, after some alterations and enlargements, has become Venable Hall of the present college, the two residences on either side of it, and the former library, now a part of Winston Hall.

The physical plant of the college continued to increase and expand during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries as the need arose. Today the 600-acre campus contains sixteen major buildings, including a residence hall completed in 1967, and a 62,500 square foot science center completed in 1968.

In 1919 an amendment to the charter placed the college under the control of a Board of Trustees directly appointed by the Synod of Virginia. This relationship between the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the college continues to exist.

Student Life

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student self-government has long been a cherished tradition and institution at Hampden-Sydney. The present constitution was adopted by the student body in 1963 and amended by a new code of social conduct in 1969. Every matriculate of the college is a member of the organization.

Student Assembly. The Student Assembly transacts all student body business and, as far as such powers are delegated to it by the faculty, it has legislative jurisdiction over various phases of student campus life. The Assembly is composed of representatives from the social fraternities and non-fraternity men and the officers of the student body.

Judiciary Board. The judicial power of Student Government is vested in the Judiciary Board. This body is composed of elected hall presidents and other representatives. It tries cases arising from breaches of the code of social conduct, with the exception of honor violations.

Student Council. The Student Council is explained below.

THE HONOR SYSTEM

The heart of the Honor System is individual responsibility. It assumes that every student is a gentleman and will conduct himself in an honorable and upright manner in all phases of student life; it further assumes that every student is concerned with the strict observance of these principles for his own sake, for the sake of his fellow students, and for the sake of the college.

Student Council (Honor Council). The Student Council (Honor Council), by authorization of the Board of Trustees and of the faculty, has jurisdiction over matters concerning breach of the Honor Code. It is composed of eleven men: three from the senior class, two from each of the other three classes, and the president and vice-president of the student body. The president is the presiding officer. The freshmen members do not have a vote. Eight out of nine votes constitute conviction. If a man is found guilty, the president of the Student Council reports the case to the Dean of Students, who informs the parents of the student in question. Student Council meetings are closed, and members of the Council are under oath never to reveal any of the proceedings designated as confidential at the time of the meeting. If a man is found guilty, the student body is informed; otherwise, the case is closed in order to protect the man who was initially charged but found innocent.

Pledge. Before a student may matriculate, he must sign a statement to the effect that he understands what is expected of him under the Honor System and that an infraction of the Honor Code at any time during the session is punishable by dishonorable dismissal from college. A professor may require a student to sign a formal pledge on any work.

Infractions of the Honor Code

1. Cheating (Giving or receiving aid without consent of the professor on tests, quizzes, assignments, or examinations, is cheating).
2. Plagiarism.
3. Lying.
4. Stealing.
5. Failure to report Honor Code offenses.

The student's obligation under the Honor System does not stop at the limits of the campus but applies in all places during the school year.

Reporting a Breach of the Honor Code. All suspected Honor Code violations should be reported to an officer of the Student Government or a member of the Honor Council. The president of the student body will notify the accused of the charges against him and give him the opportunity to obtain a counselor.

Penalty for a Breach of Honor. The penalty for a breach of honor is temporary or permanent suspension from the college.

The Pledge. On my honor I have neither given nor received aid on this work, nor am I aware of any breach of the Honor Code that I shall not immediately report.

RELIGIOUS LIFE AT HAMPDEN-SYDNEY

It has been the aim of Hampden-Sydney since its inception to give to the Christian faith its rightful place in the lives of all who are associated with it: faculty, administration, coaching staff, and students. As a result, many ministers, missionaries, church-college teachers, and others engaged in church vocations are numbered among its graduates. Furthermore, the college has sent into the churches a great, though often unheralded, number of Christian laymen. A recent survey revealed that at least two-thirds of all alumni at present occupy specific positions of leadership in their churches.

The College Chaplain, who is also pastor of College Church (Presbyterian) on the campus, is responsible for the planning of the college religious services and for the coordination of denominational student activities. He serves as an adviser to the Campus Christian Association, and he is available at all times for personal counseling.

THE CAMPUS CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The CCA seeks to exert a constructive influence on both the spiritual and social life of all students. During orientation week an effort is made to help the new men feel that they are among friends.

Under the auspices of the CCA, fall religious emphasis services are held to confront the campus with the claims of Jesus Christ upon the minds and hearts of all students and faculty. In the spring the CCA provides a lecture series in which the relationship of Christianity to some phase of contemporary culture is explored by a Christian scholar of particular competence in his own field. In each case opportunities are provided for students to hold individual and small group conferences with the guest speakers.

In addition, the CCA provides many opportunities for students to engage in Christian witness, service, and social fellowship on and beyond the campus.

DENOMINATIONAL ACTIVITIES

While Hampden-Sydney College is an institution founded by and related to the Presbyterian Church in the United States, it encourages the work of all denominations. The nearness of Longwood College (for women) in Farmville provides an opportunity for coeducational religious activities. Student groups are organized for Baptists, Episcopalians, Lutherans, and Methodists through the churches of these denominations in Farmville; and College Church (Presbyterian) on the Hampden-Sydney campus and the Farmville Presbyterian Church jointly sponsor an active Westminster Fellowship.

CHAPEL

For almost two centuries Hampden-Sydney has had as a major objective the building of Christian character. A strong moral and spiritual atmosphere on the campus is most conducive to this end. This atmosphere is created by the students and the faculty centering their faith in God as He is revealed in Christ.

Attendance at chapels and at convocations is required.

DISCIPLINE

The discipline of the college is in the hands of the president, the deans, and the faculty, under regulations adopted by the Board of Trustees. Its object is to maintain regularity and order in the institution and to cultivate among the students the spirit of honor and manliness. The principle on which it proceeds is what has for many years been known in the universities and colleges of Virginia as "The Honor System," and has been found most effective in the development of good character and conduct. Fortunately, other means are seldom needed to secure the desired end, but, when necessary, they are resorted to in the form of admonition or suspension, as the gravity of the offense may demand.

ATHLETICS

Hampden-Sydney College offers the very latest athletic advantages, including a fully-equipped gymnasium and excellent facilities for football, baseball, basketball, wrestling, tennis, and track.

No one shall be a member or manager of any college athletic team who is not a regularly matriculated student.

The college is not liable for injuries received in any athletic practice or contest, or for hospital and doctor's bills, or for any other expenses resulting from such injuries.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Recognizing the importance of physical exercise to the maintenance of student health, the Athletic Department at Hampden-Sydney College offers a comprehensive program of intramural activities which provides every student with opportunity to indulge in recreation and pleasant social relations. This program, conducted under the supervision of the faculty, includes all seasonal sports from the beginning of autumn through the end of spring.

ORGANIZATIONS

THE UNION-PHILANTHROPIC LITERARY SOCIETY

The present society is the result of the merger of the old Union and Philanthropic Societies. The Union Society was founded in 1789 and is second only to the Whig-Philosophic Society of Princeton University in point of age. It is made up of a group of students who are interested in the various forms of public speaking.

The Literary Society assembles for serious considerations, to instruct and be instructed, so that by a mutual clashing of wit, one's intellect may be sharpened for later life. The Literary Society furnishes the opportunity for debating, public speaking, and presenting papers. The Literary Society is invaluable as an active outlet on campus for intellectual creation. Freshmen especially are invited to avail themselves of the benefits of the Society.

THE JONGLEURS (THE HAMPDEN-SYDNEY PLAYERS)

Students interested in dramatics are invited to seek admission to the Jongleurs. Men must convince the faculty coach and a committee of student members of their aptitude. The club presents plays in conjunction with the Longwood College players and on occasion with casts composed entirely of Hampden-Sydney students.

THE GLEE CLUB

Students who are musically inclined have an opportunity for expression of their talent. Some sort of choral organization has always existed at the college and full opportunity is given every student to try out for the club. Several trips are taken during the fall and spring.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

The students publish an annual volume called The Kaleidoscope, of which seventy-three volumes will have been issued by June, 1969. This publication, intended primarily to foster college spirit, contains

The Hampden-Sydney Magazine is published twice a year by the students. This publication contains short stories and articles by the rolls and photographs of the classes and various organizations.

The Hampden-Sydney Tiger, a student newspaper reflecting the various phases of college life, has been published since 1919.

members of the staff and student body. It is designed to encourage creative writing on the campus.

GREEK LETTER SOCIAL FRATERNITIES

There are nine national Greek letter fraternities at Hampden-Sydney. These are all members of the Interfraternity Council, which formulates the rules for rushing and initiating new members. The following national fraternities are represented at Hampden-Sydney: Chi Phi, Sigma Chi, Kappa Sigma, Pi Kappa Alpha, Kappa Alpha, Theta Chi, Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Nu, Phi Gamma Delta.

PHI BETA KAPPA

The Eta of Virginia Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Society annually in March elects to membership a limited number of seniors who have exhibited scholarly attainment and distinction. Phi Beta Kappa members are chosen from among those students who have been in residence at Hampden-Sydney for a minimum of two years, have a grade point ratio of 3.5 on work taken at this college, and have passed all courses.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

In the spring of 1924, Lambda Circle of the National Honor Society of Omicron Delta Kappa was organized at Hampden-Sydney. The object of this society is to encourage and honor leadership, and to utilize this leadership for the highest good of the college. The membership is composed of the recognized leaders in the various college activities and certain members of the faculty chosen by the student members of the society.

SIGMA UPSILON, LITERARY FRATERNITY

The Sphinx Chapter meets approximately every three weeks. Some members of the faculty and chosen juniors and seniors meet to discuss literary men and movements, to read papers, and to review books.

CHI BETA PHI, SCIENTIFIC FRATERNITY

Chi Beta Phi, honorary scientific fraternity for undergraduates, is associated with the American Academy for the Advancement of Science. Gamma Chapter brings in scientists of renown from other institutions to give lectures and demonstrations, the public often being invited. Regular meetings are used for discussion of research by local members and for occasional lectures on advanced topics by the faculty.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA, DRAMATIC FRATERNITY

This fraternity honors outstanding leaders on the campus in the field of dramatics. Members are elected from students who have shown a decided aptitude in dramatics and from students who have done outstanding work in staging and production.

PI DELTA EPSILON, JOURNALISTIC FRATERNITY

Pi Delta Epsilon honors leadership in the field of journalism and associated activities. The Hampden-Sydney chapter was chartered in 1939. The fraternity seeks to coordinate the various publications by bringing the editors and business managers into one group.

ETA SIGMA PHI, CLASSICAL FRATERNITY

An honorary fraternity for upper classmen proficient in classical studies, Beta Theta Chapter of Eta Sigma Phi was established at Hampden-Sydney in 1942. It has promoted interest in ancient civilization through the purchase of Greek coins and records, and the presentation of various events of a classical nature.

PSI CHI, PSYCHOLOGY FRATERNITY

The Psychology Club became affiliated with Psi Chi in 1962. The purpose of Psi Chi is to improve the student's knowledge, interest, and understanding of psychology by sponsoring speakers, films, and special meetings. The membership requirements are: (1) an interest in psychology as a science; (2) completion of at least 8 hours of psychology with a grade of B or better; (3) an average of C or better in all other subjects; and (4) election by the local Psi Chi chapter.

CIRCLE K

In connection with the Richmond Kiwanis Club, a chapter of Circle K, a leadership society, has been formed at Hampden-Sydney.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BACHELOR'S DEGREE

For the degree a candidate must complete the following prescribed courses together with required courses in the major and elective courses to total 124 hours of credit and must earn a C (2.00) average.

The degree conferred upon candidates meeting these requirements is that of Bachelor of Arts, or, for students majoring in the natural sciences who request it, Bachelor of Science.

	Semester Hours
NATURAL SCIENCE .....	16
4 semester hours of Mathematics
8 semester hours of either Chemistry or Physics
4 semester hours of Biology
SOCIAL SCIENCE .....	9
No more than 3 hours may be submitted in History nor more than 6 hours in any other Social Science. (i.e. Psychology, Economics, Political Science)
WESTERN MAN .....	16
BIBLE AND RELIGION.....	6
ENGLISH .....	6
To be satisfied by courses at the 200 level.
FOREIGN LANGUAGE .....
Completion of two semesters of work at the 300 level in one modern or one ancient language or completion of two semesters of work at the 200 level in one ancient and one modern language.

Each student must choose a major in one department or an area of concentration in related departments. Specific requirements are found in headings of the departmental course offerings.

HOURS REQUIRED

For the B.A. or B.S. degree, a candidate must complete, together with the prescribed work, enough elective courses to aggregate 124 semester hours of credit. All requirements must be completed in ten semesters or less. The semester hour of credit is authorized for a class which meets fifty minutes per week for the semester, or for the laboratory which meets two and one-half hours per week for the semester.

A minimum residence of one academic year, the last year preceding graduation, is required.

If a student fails to graduate with his class, he may receive not more than eight semester hours of credit for work done elsewhere following termination of residence. A maximum of thirty semester hours of credit may be earned in summer schools.

QUALITATIVE REQUIREMENTS

Grades and quality units are given on the following bases:

GRADES	MEANING	QUALITY POINTS
A	Excellent	Four per semester hour
B	Good	Three per semester hour
C	Fair	Two per semester hour
D	Passing	One per semester hour
E	Failure—may continue*	None
F	Failure	None
W	Withdrawn	None
WF	Withdrawn, failing	None
I	Incomplete	None

* This grade is given only for the first semester of continuing (0-6) courses. If a student receives the grade of E, he may continue in the immediately following semester of that course. If the grade for the second semester is satisfactory, the student will not be required to repeat the work of the first semester, and the graduation requirement of the whole course will be fulfilled. No hours of credit will be given for the semester which bears the grade of E.

SCHOLARSHIP REQUIREMENTS

A grade-point average of 2.00 (C) is required for graduation. The grade-point average is calculated by dividing the total quality units earned at Hampden-Sydney and elsewhere by the total hours attempted at Hampden-Sydney and elsewhere.

A student who at the end of any semester has an accumulated grade-point ratio below 2.00 or who has fewer accumulated hours than listed below is warned that he is not making satisfactory progress towards a degree.

Semester	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Hours	14	28	43	58	73	89	105

A student who at the end of any semester has fewer hours and/or an accumulated grade-point average below that listed in the following tables is subject to suspension. If a student is retained after being considered for suspension he is placed on probation.

Accumulated Records

Semester	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Hours	8	9	34	51	69	87	105
Grade-Point Ratio	1.2	1.4	1.6	1.7	1.8	1.9	2.0

Single Semester's Record

Semester	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
Hours	8	8	12	12	12	12	12
Grade-Point Ratio	1.2	1.3	1.4	1.5	1.5	1.5	1.5

CREDIT FOR SUMMER WORK

Grades earned for courses taken in summer school are accepted at face value subject to prior departmental approval of the course(s) as equivalent to its offering.

No more than thirty of the 124 hours required for graduation may be earned in summer school.

DEAN'S LIST

The Dean's List is based on a grade point ratio of 3.3 with no grade below B. No student, except a senior, who is carrying less than fifteen hours is eligible for dean's list.

GRADUATION WITH HONORS

Graduation with honors shall be according to the following requirements:

Summa cum laude	a grade point ratio of 3.7
Magna cum laude	a grade point ratio of 3.5
Cum laude	a grade point ratio of 3.3

Note: The maximum grade point ratio is 4.0

HONORS COURSES

Honors courses for juniors and seniors are available in various departments. Approval by the professor who will direct the course and by the academic dean will be required. Prerequisite for such a course is two years of study in that department. A tentative plan for the course must be filed with the academic dean by the fourth week of the first semester. The course will normally require two semesters of work and will carry up to three hours of credit per semester. The credit will apply toward the degree requirements.

PREPARATION FOR PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS

Special programs are suggested for students who may wish ultimately to seek admission to one of the professions or to a professional school.

MEDICINE AND DENTISTRY

According to the publication Medical School Admission Requirements (18th edition), published by the Association of American Medical Colleges, "Medicine needs individuals with a diversity of educational background and a wide variety of talents and interests. . . . Specific premedical course requirements . . . vary among the medical schools, but all recognize the desirability of a broad education—a good foundation in the natural sciences (mathematics, chemistry, biology, and physics), highly developed communication skills, and a rich background in the social sciences and humanities."

Eight semester-hours of each of the following basic science courses are required for admission to virtually every medical school: general chemistry, organic chemistry, general biology, and general physics. Additional requirements are specified for some schools. Dental school requirements are similar.

Choice of college major is a critical matter for premedical students. The majority, quite naturally, are interested primarily in science and should elect a full major in one of the sciences, such as biology or chemistry. The interscience major is generally not recommended because it provides a program more diffuse than that taken by other medical applicants with whom the student competes and provides fewer alternatives for the student who may fail to attain admission to professional school.

Occasionally a premedical student who has great interest in a non-science field may elect to major in that field. This is permissible, but he should understand that the quality of his science work must be unusually good to compensate for greater quantity of science courses taken by others. In the words of Medical School Admission Requirements (18th edition) "the student who majors in a non-scientific field and elects the minimum number of required science courses must excel in them to insure the adequacy of his preparation and a favorable consideration of his application."

In order to prepare himself for the Medical College Admissions Test (MCAT) or the Dental Aptitude Test (DAT), generally taken at the end of the junior year, the student must complete the required basic science courses in his first three years. In order to develop the intellectual skills needed for good performance on the MCAT or DAT and to prove his motivation and ability for advanced study in medical/dental science, the student should elect a demanding curriculum in every semester. This should typically include at least two courses per semester in science and/or mathematics, and more for the well qualified, science-oriented student.

A faculty committee advises students concerning programs and applications, and prepares evaluations and recommendations.

LAW

The Association of American Law Schools suggests no particular subjects for pre-legal training but recommends a program aimed at the following objectives:

1. Comprehension and expression in words.
2. Critical understanding of the human institutions and values with which the law deals.
3. Creative power in thinking.

Since many of the goals of legal education are also goals of liberal education, it is not surprising that the most appropriate pre-legal course lies in the liberal-arts program. There is no conflict of objectives; indeed, the mental accomplishments outlined above are in the tradition of liberal education. The task of the pre-law student is to achieve them, and Hampden-Sydney College provides this opportunity.

In consultation with his faculty adviser, the student should select specific subjects in the light of his educational background and interests. In choosing his major he should consider political science, economics, and history. Perhaps an area of concentration in two of these fields would prove desirable. Whatever the major, some advanced work should be done in one of these fields.

BUSINESS

A student may enter private business or government immediately after graduation from college or after specialized study at the graduate level. A training program sponsored by the employer is normal. Public accounting calls for the baccalaureate degree and further training leading to a professional certificate. Evening classes, taken while holding a business position, facilitate this, and full-time graduate programs are available in some universities.

One of the purposes of the economics major is to furnish a suitable background for students planning to enter business, government administration, or accounting. Courses in political science, statistics, and mathematics for business management are recommended.

SECONDARY SCHOOL TEACHING

The liberal arts education provides an excellent preparation for the individual who wishes not merely to qualify for, but to excel in, teaching at the secondary level. A strong major in the field to be taught, with supporting courses in related areas, is the most important preparation.

The interscience major provides a broad science background, including about six semesters' concentration in one field, and constitutes a satisfactory preparation for teaching in the field of concentration. However, the student who aspires to be a master teacher should elect a full major in preparation for graduate study, as recommended by the National Science Teachers' Association and other professional groups.

While Hampden-Sydney College does not offer any professional education courses, several courses taught by the various departments meet the professional education requirements of the State. Other courses needed to complete the requirements may be taken at Longwood College through a cooperative arrangement.

COOPERATIVE PROGRAM

The variety of courses available to Hampden-Sydney students has been increased by a cooperative arrangement with Longwood College. Under the terms of the arrangement, full-time students at either institution may enroll for courses at the other institution without added expense.

Students desiring to take advantage of this program must secure approval from the academic dean. Approval will be granted only if an equivalent course is not offered.

Hampden-Sydney students would find these academic areas of particular interest:

- Education (for certification requirements)
- Fine Arts (creative)
- Modern Language (conversational)

COMPUTING FACILITY

The Hampden-Sydney Computing Facility is located on the first floor of Bagby Hall. The present system consists of the IBM 1130 Computer with 8196 words of core memory, 500,000 word magnetic disk auxiliary memory, 1132 printer and 1442 card read punch. Five IBM 029 card punch machines and four Wang Laboratory Desk Calculators are available for student use.

The Facility is open to students and faculty, and familiarity with the equipment is expected of all students.

LANGUAGE LABORATORY

A foreign language laboratory equipped with thirty individual booths is located in Bagby Hall for the instruction of students in audio-lingual skills. Regular work in the development of these skills is required of all first year students.

FACULTY ADVISERS

Advisers are assigned to incoming freshmen during the summer preceding matriculation. The selection of adviser is made carefully to reflect educational goals of the student as well as his vocational and avocational interests. Registration and academic progress are among the important matters of concern to the advisers. Each student is urged to consult with his adviser periodically.

In the spring of the sophomore year, each student must declare his major, or area of concentration, and a professor in this field will be assigned as permanent adviser. During the period of spring registration the new adviser will counsel with the student and plan an effective program for the junior and senior years. The adviser may give guidance to the student in the choice of graduate or vocational opportunities.

EGGLESTON LIBRARY

The College Library is housed in a handsome, efficient, modern building carefully designed to meet the needs of undergraduates. It is named for former President Joseph DuPuy Eggleston. The building, constructed in 1961, provides seating space for more than 200 readers, including 92 individual study tables, 11 typing cubicles, 2 seminar rooms, a listening room, and an outdoor reading terrace.

The book collection numbers approximately 75,000 volumes and is growing at the rate of some 5,500 volumes a year. 430 periodicals are received regularly, including certain microcard and microfilm editions. The library is a depository for selected government publications. Most of the books have been selected by the teaching faculty and are readily accessible on open shelves. Use of the library is covered by the Honor Code.

The attractively and comfortably furnished rare book room, a memorial to Alfred Alexander Jones '42, contains the more valuable holdings of the library along with books written by and about the graduates of the college.

ADMINISTRATIVE REGULATIONS

REGISTRATION AND CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

New students report to the campus on Sunday, September 14, 1969, and will register for classes on Monday, September 15. Returning students matriculate on Tuesday, September 16.

During the month of April each student planning to return for the next session must carry out spring registration and pay the Advance Tuition Deposit. In spring registration the student will list for his adviser the courses desired for the fall semester, and this list will become his fall registration. The class schedule is devised from spring registrations, and the student returning in September finds his personal schedule complete even to the assignment of laboratories. Schedule preparation conducted in this way is fair to all, it reduces to a minimum the number of conflicts, and it eliminates for most students the usual tedium of fall registration.

When matriculation is complete and all students have received their schedules, changes of schedule are not encouraged. Beginning with the day of registration and extending through the week which follows, a change of schedule will require payment of a $5 fee. No changes are permitted after the first week.

Although new students have the benefits of comprehensive guidance during registration, some adjustments in schedule may be necessary. Accordingly, new students may make schedule changes free of charge during the first week. No changes are permitted after the first week.

For the beginning of the second semester similar registration policies, including fees, are in effect.

COURSE REGULATIONS

1. Every student must carry a minimum course load of fifteen hours each semester.
2. No student may take more than sixteen hours in any semester unless he has passed at least fifteen hours in the previous semester.
3. No student may take more than 19 hours in any semester.
4. A student hopelessly deficient in one subject, with the permission of the instructor, adviser, and the academic dean, may drop that course. The grade for the semester will be recorded as W.F.

NOTE: These course regulations may be modified by action of the executive committee of the faculty.

EXAMINATIONS

In all classes examinations are held at the end of each semester. A charge of $5.00 payable to the business manager is made for special examinations.

RE-EXAMINATIONS

Re-examinations may be granted seniors if the professor concerned and the academic dean approve. The re-examination will be in lieu of the first (regularly scheduled) examination only, and will not substitute for all previous grades of the course. Passing the re-examination will entitle the student to no better than a D in the course.

SEMESTER REPORTS

At the end of each semester a grade report is sent to the parent or guardian of each student. Once during the first semester and once during the second semester, reports of unsatisfactory progress in specific courses are similarly sent.

CLASS ATTENDANCE

Since a college education is initiated and given direction by the work of the classroom, class attendance is essential. Students who find it necessary to leave the campus for medical reasons are expected to consult with the college physician. Absences for medical reasons require a written statement from the attending physician. Students who find it necessary to miss classes for a number of days should inform the dean of students.

TRANSFER CREDITS

A student transferring college credit from another institution will receive not more than two quality units for each semester hour of credit accepted.

Quality units are to be allowed only for courses which would apply to a degree at Hampden-Sydney and which are not being presented for credit toward a degree at any other institution. No credit will be given for correspondence courses.

WITHDRAWAL FROM COLLEGE

Any student who withdraws from college must have the approval of the academic dean and the dean of students. A student resigning on or after January 1 of the first semester or May 1 of the second semester will be suspended and will receive a grade of W.F. in all courses.

EXCLUSION FROM COLLEGE

The college authorities reserve the right to exclude at any time a student whose conduct or academic standing they regard as unacceptable; in such a case fees will not be refunded or remitted, in whole or in part.

HEALTH REGULATIONS

1. All medical excuses require a written statement from the attending physician. Students living in their own homes enjoy the benefits of the Student Health Service except infirmary room service.

2. A student ill enough to be in bed must be in the infirmary, where he can have medical attention and the care of the nurses. No excuses are given unless this rule is observed.

3. Students at home on account of illness are required to notify the college physician and to report to the dean of students for an excuse upon their return to college.

4. Students who have had or have been exposed to any infectious disease must report to the college physician before attending classes or mingling with other students.

5. A student who desires an appointment with an outside physician or dentist should consult the college physician before making the appointment. This is a requirement when the appointment involves an absence from class. He is to bring a statement from the attending physician to the dean of students before returning to class.

6. No student may leave the campus because of illness unless he has a medical excuse from the college physician.

7. No student is allowed to have in his room ultra-violet lamps, infra-red lamps, or other forms of treatment without the written permission of the college physician. When students are taking special treatments, this fact should be reported to the college physician.

Admissions

Admissions

A young man applying for admission to Hampden-Sydney College as a freshman should plan to enroll in September. Rarely is an entering student admitted at the beginning of the second semester, for the distinctive curriculum makes no provision for mid-year admissions.

Details of the Early Decision Plan and the Regular Plan are given in the next pages. All inquiries should be addressed to the director of admissions.

Hampden-Sydney reserves the right to send the college grades of its students to the high school of origin for purposes of counseling and evaluation and to various scholarship and lending agencies requesting follow-up information.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

- I. An applicant must be graduated from an accredited secondary school or its equivalent in order for his acceptance to be confirmed by the college.
- II. Preparation in secondary school should include the following:
  - A. Four units in English.
  - B. At least two units of algebra.
  - C. One unit of geometry. Solid geometry, trigonometry, and other advanced mathematics courses are recommended.
  - D. One unit of chemistry, biology, or physics.
  - E. At least two units of one foreign language.
  - F. One unit of history or civics.
  - G. Additional courses in mathematics, science, history, government, and languages.
- III. Applicants for admission to Hampden-Sydney are required to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test and three (3) Achievement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board. The scores must be reported to Hampden-Sydney by the College Board. The SAT should be taken no later than January of the senior year, preferably in December. Candidates for early decision must take the SAT before the senior year.

Achievement Tests should be taken in the senior year in December or January, except for early decision candidates, who must take them before the senior year. Achievement Tests required are the following:

English Composition

Mathematics, Level I (Level II may be taken in lieu of Level I, if a student has high mathematical ability and is taking or has completed an advanced mathematics course. A conference with a counselor or mathematics teacher is recommended before taking Level II.)

A third test selected by the candidate. If this test is in a subject completed before the senior year, the test does not have to be repeated in the senior year.

Complete information regarding these tests may be obtained by writing to the College Entrance Examination Board, Post Office Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

- IV. Applicants who are accepted and indicate they plan to enroll will be sent a health certificate to be completed by the family physician. This form must be received and approved by the college physician before a student may matriculate.

REGULAR PLAN

The application form should be completed by the student and returned to the director of admissions, preferably in the fall of the senior year and no later than March 1. The blank transcript and personal appraisal form provided by the college should be given to the proper secondary school officer, who should return the completed form to the college.

In February a card will be sent to an applicant if all evidence in support of the application has not been received. Anything lacking must be received by March 1, or full consideration of the application cannot be guaranteed.

Most decisions by the admissions committee are mailed between mid-March and mid-April.

The college subscribes to the Candidates Reply Date, which allows an accepted student until early May to notify Hampden-Sydney of his decision. However, the college appreciates being notified as soon as the applicant has made his decision. The letter of confirmation accepting the offer of admission must be accompanied by a non-refundable, $100.00 advance deposit applicable to the first semester bill.

EARLY DECISION PLAN

Hampden-Sydney is a member of the Uniform Early Decision Group. The object of this plan is to reduce the necessity for filing multiple applications and to reduce the anxiety attending later acceptance. The plan is for applicants who, after consulting with school authorities and parents, judge that Hampden-Sydney College is their single choice and that they satisfy the following eligibility requirements:

1. Top quarter rank in class at the end of the junior year
2. Verbal and mathematical scores on the SAT that total at least 1100

Under this plan, the student:

- A. Agrees to apply only to Hampden-Sydney until he is notified of the college's decision.
- B. Agrees to have his completed application, including transcript and SAT and Achievement Test* scores, in by November 1. Financial assistance applicants must have the Parents' Confidential Statement filed with the College Scholarship Service by November 1, preferably much earlier.

* If a candidate meets all requirements other than the completion of the Achievement Test requirement, he may still apply under the Early Decision Plan. However, he must take the Achievement Tests no later than January of his senior year.

- C. Agrees to notify Hampden-Sydney of his decision regarding matriculation by the date stated in his acceptance letter. A non-refundable deposit of $100.00, applicable to the first-semester bill, must accompany a confirmation.
- D. Agrees not to apply elsewhere after confirming his intention to enroll at Hampden-Sydney.

Under this plan, Hampden-Sydney:

- A. Agrees to mail a decision on admission (and financial assistance, if requested) by November 15. The decision in each case will be either acceptance or deferment; no rejections will be made under this plan.
- B. Agrees not to require the accepted candidate who has indicated his intention to matriculate and who has made his deposit to take further admission tests.*
- C. Guarantees the deferred applicant that his application will receive thorough, unbiased consideration under the Regular Plan. The deferred candidate will be free to apply to other colleges.

* If a candidate meets all requirements other than the completion of the Achievement Test requirement, he may still apply under the Early Decision Plan. However, he must take the Achievement Tests no later than January of his senior year.

ADVANCED PLACEMENT AND CREDIT

Hampden-Sydney subscribes to the purposes of the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board. Entering students who have completed advanced work in secondary school and who present satisfactory grades on the Advanced Placement Examinations or other appropriate evidence may receive credit toward graduation and may be placed in courses above the level of the freshman year. In all cases decisions regarding advanced placement and credit shall be made by the department concerned.

FACTORS INFLUENCING A DECISION

The secondary school academic record is the most important item. Significant also are the recommendation of school officials and the overall pattern represented by test scores, personal qualifications, and contributions to church, school, and community activities.

CAMPUS VISITS

Interviews are not required, but an applicant is encouraged to visit the campus and the admissions office. A written request for an appointment with the director of admissions should be made two weeks in advance of an anticipated visit. From September through May the admissions office is open for appointments on weekdays from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., except during traditional school holidays, and on Saturday mornings from 9:00 a.m. until noon. In June, July, and August the office is open only on weekdays, not on week ends.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Hampden-Sydney has no summer school. An entering student who plans to attend summer school to acquire college credit before matriculating at Hampden-Sydney should obtain clearance from the registrar to ensure the transference of the credits.

READMISSION

A former Hampden-Sydney student desiring to return to Hampden-Sydney should write to the director of admissions for an application form for readmission. Students planning to re-enter in the second semester should apply no later than January 1; those planning to enter in September should apply by March 1.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

Hampden-Sydney accepts each year a limited number of transfer students. September is the normal time for entrance, although occasionally a student is accepted for admission for the second semester.

Transferring from one college to another almost always involves loss of credits. Tentative credits may be accorded a student transferring course work similar to that offered by Hampden-Sydney from an accredited institution. These credits will become final upon the satisfactory completion of his first semester of work at Hampden-Sydney. If the student shows that he cannot do the work undertaken, the credit will be withdrawn or adjusted. No credit will be allowed for work taken elsewhere if the student earns credit for the equivalent of this work at Hampden-Sydney.

A student seeking admission from another institution must have earned grades above the minimum passing mark in the courses which he presents for transfer (see section on Transfer Credits.) It is the policy of the college to deny admission to a transfer student unless the student is eligible to return to the college from which he wishes to transfer.

All inquiries should be addressed to the director of admissions.

Expenses and Financial Assistance

Expenses and Financial Assistance

EXPENSES

These are made up of certain fixed fees payable to the college and several variable expenses.

FIXED FEES

(1969-1970)

Comprehensive Fee .....	$1,800.00
Room rent in Cushing, Graham, and Venable Halls .....	200.00
Room rent in Whitehouse Hall .....	300.00
Board .....	450.00

Total .....	$2,450.00-$2,550.00
-------------	-----------------------

Special Fees:

Late Enrollment .....	$ 5.00
Re-examination .....	5.00
Graduation Fee .....	15.00

VARIABLE EXPENSES

Each student pays for his own:

Books (approximate cost) .....	$75.00
Laundry (approximate cost) .....	55.00
Personal Expenses (determined by student and his parents)
Laboratory Breakage Deposit (for certain courses)

Books may be purchased at the College Shop. Laundry may be arranged through student agents of local laundries. Personal expenses involving clothes, travel, amusements, dues to organizations, and incidentals are subject to personal habits and means.

The breakage deposit is returnable except for the actual cost of materials destroyed or consumed.

EXPLANATION OF FEES

Student fees cover only about half of the cost of the student's education; the remaining half is provided by income from endowment and the gifts of alumni, friends, and the Synod of Virginia.

The Comprehensive Fee covers tuition, materials required in laboratory courses, medical care in the college infirmary, accident and hospitalization insurance, admission to athletic events held on the college campus, the cost to students of student publications, Campus Christian Association privileges, and other activities; but does not cover breakage of college property or the purchase of expendable materials for laboratory courses.

Room rent in the dormitory covers cost of occupancy and use of utilities. Freshmen live in Venable and Graham Halls; upper classmen in Cushing, Graham, and Whitehouse Halls.

The rooms are furnished with dressers, beds, mattresses, springs, desks, and chairs. Bed coverings, pillows, towels, curtains, etc., are furnished by the student according to his taste.

Each student is responsible to the College for the condition of his room and is expected to report any damage of college property to the business office. He must pay the cost of repairs.

The dining hall located in the student activities building, Winston Hall, provides for the board of students. Slater Food Service Management is in charge of all operations. In addition to the main dining hall, the William Henry Harrison Room is available for banquets and special occasions, while the Patrick Henry Room specializes in à la carte service for students, faculty, and their guests.

All resident students are admitted with the understanding that they must board at the dining hall.

In the senior year there is payable on February 1st a graduation fee of $15.00, which covers cost of diploma and rental of cap and gown for the Commencement functions.

PAYMENT OF FEES*

One-half of the fixed fees is payable on or before registration in September; the balance is due on or before second-semester registration.

Checks should be made payable to Hampden-Sydney College and mailed to the Business Office.

* New students pay an advance deposit of $100.00 upon acceptance of admission. This deposit is not refundable. Old students pay an advance deposit of $50.00 on or before March 15, and may obtain refund in the event of withdrawal not later than June 15. The advance payment is credited toward regular fees upon entrance in September.

MONTHLY PAYMENTS

For those parents wishing to make payments monthly rather than in a lump sum, the college offers the following plans:

Education Funds, Inc.

State Planters Bank College Tuition Plan, Inc.

Tuition Plan, Inc.

RETURN OF FEES

There is no refund of fees, except when the college physician recommends the withdrawal of a student before the middle of a semester for reasons of health. When this occurs the student will be refunded $250.00.

There is no refund of room rent.

A refund of unused board is allowed if withdrawal occurs prior to two weeks before the end of a semester.

SCHOLARSHIP PAYMENTS

One half of the value of a scholarship or grant-in-aid awarded to a student will be credited against the first semester's charges; the balance will be credited to the student's account for the second semester.

LIFE INSURANCE

The University Life Insurance Plan is available to Hampden-Sydney students on an optional basis. It provides coverage of $10,000.00 of annually renewable, convertible term insurance with the Fidelity Bankers Life Insurance Corporation. The annual premium is $20 per year through age twenty-four and $25 per year for ages twenty-five through twenty-nine.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Hampden-Sydney College participates in the College Scholarship Service Assembly (CSS) of the College Entrance Examination Board and is also a member of the Southern College Scholarship Group. Participants in the CSS subscribe to the principle that the amount of financial aid granted a student should be based upon financial need. The CSS assists colleges and universities and other agencies in determining the student's need for financial assistance. Parents of applicants seeking financial assistance are required to submit the Parents' Confidential Statement (PCS) to the CSS by February 21, preferably much earlier. Hampden-Sydney College should be designated as a recipient.

Financial assistance consists of scholarships, loans, and campus employment, which may be offered to students singly or in various combinations.

In selecting students to receive financial assistance, the student aid committee places primary emphasis upon academic achievement, character, future promise, and need.

SCHOLARSHIPS

THE GEORGE F. BAKER SCHOLARSHIP

Hampden-Sydney College is one of a small number of strong liberal arts colleges to be awarded grants for its scholarship program by the George F. Baker Trust. From three to five four-year scholarships will be awarded to incoming freshmen who are among the most promising applicants for admission based on the qualities of leadership, character, and intellectual ability and achievement.

Those selected to compete for the scholarships will be invited to the campus for interviews with a selection committee composed of leading business men. Baker Scholars will be chosen without regard to financial need. However, the actual stipend awarded will range from $250.00 to a full scholarship per year and will meet the financial need of each scholar as nearly as possible.

THE VENABLE SCHOLARSHIP

The Venable Scholarship, one of the highest honors bestowed upon an entering freshman, is awarded to a young man representing the highest type of manhood. This is a four-year scholarship ranging in value from $100.00 to a full scholarship per year, the actual amount being dependent upon the financial need of the winner.

HONOR SCHOLARSHIPS

Approximately four Honor Scholarships are awarded to incoming freshmen in recognition of superior academic and extracurricular achievements. This four-year scholarship has a value of up to full tuition per year, the actual amount reflecting the financial need of the recipient. If no need is evident, the award is honorary.

LEADERSHIP AWARDS

The two Leadership Awards, including the Moomaw Award, are awarded to entering freshmen who have demonstrated noteworthy leadership achievement. Each is a four-year scholarship with a value of up to full tuition per year, the exact amount depending upon the financial need of the winner. If there is no financial need, the award is honorary.

GRANTS-IN-AID

This is the largest source of revenue for financial aid. The funds consist of money derived from endowment, gifts to the college, and direct grants from the college.

GUARANTEED LOANS

The college recommends loans for qualified students through the United Student Aid Funds, a private, non-profit corporation which endorses low-cost loans made by a student's home-town bank. Also, most states have agencies guaranteeing loans to students for educational expenses.

In each plan a student may borrow up to $1,500.00 per academic year from a participating bank, usually a bank in the student's home town. Repayment begins after one leaves college. Interest is no more than 7%, and interest starts when the loan is made. For a student who qualifies under Federal law, the government will pay the interest until repayments begin. One qualifies for this interest subsidy normally if one's adjusted family income is below $15,000.00 per year. Further details can be obtained from banks or by writing to the admissions office.

BOOKER-STEBBINS LOAN FUND

A student may borrow up to one-half of his college expenses for the year at 3% simple interest. This is primarily a source for an emergency or short-term loan.

FEDERAL PROGRAM

In cooperation with the federal government the college offers Educational Opportunity Grants. The college and the government combine their financial resources and award grants to worthy students who lack sufficient financial resources to enable them to attend college. Also available are loans of up to $1000.00 per year under the National Defense Student Loan Program and a limited number of jobs under the College Work-Study Program.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

New Students

Every applicant for financial aid should first secure an application form for admission to Hampden-Sydney, on which he may note his intention to apply for financial assistance. An applicant's parents must then submit a Parents' Confidential Statement (PCS) to the CSS by February 21, preferably much earlier. The PCS may be obtained from a school counselor or from the College Scholarship Service, Box 176, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

Financial aid decisions are made by the admissions and student aid committee. Notices are mailed with the admissions decision whenever possible. Applying for aid in no way affects the admissions decision.

Students Enrolled at Hampden-Sydney

Hampden-Sydney students applying for aid for the first time or for a renewal or increase of present aid should obtain from the director of admissions a Parents' Confidential Statement, which should be completed by the parents and returned to the admissions office by March 1. Award notices are mailed to students in June, after the completion of the second semester.

Renewal

Awards are made for one session only. A PCS must be filed with the admissions office each year, and the committee upon review of the PCS may make adjustments in the award reflecting changes in the financial situation.

A student normally is expected to maintain a 2.0 (maximum 4.0) academic average each academic year to retain aid for the next year. Baker, Venable, Honor, and Leadership award winners are expected to maintain a 2.5 average to retain their scholarships.

The composition of the total award (how much is grant, loan, job) each year will reflect the quality of the student's academic work. Generally, those with the highest averages will receive more grant and less loan than those with lower averages.

Awards may be cancelled at any time when the department or the work of the recipient is deemed unsatisfactory.

General Information

HAMPDEN-SYDNEY

Hampden-Sydney is an undergraduate college committed to a particular form of liberal-arts education. The faculty endeavors to make as the end of this education an effective commencement into business, the professions, or post-graduate schools. The college is not a miniature university, and it cannot be all things to all who would enter; but if this is a limitation, it is also an asset, for the full resources of the college can be dedicated to the one kind of education.

The development of Christian character is important at Hampden-Sydney. The college invites to its faculty Christian men who are competent scholars and teachers. By their example, by their persuasions, as well as by their scholarship, the faculty members influence the lives of Hampden-Sydney students.

STUDENT HEALTH SERVICE

The objectives of the college health service are in accord with those laid down by the American College Health Association.

An applicant for admission to the college is required to submit a medical certificate from his home physician stating that he is in good health and not handicapped by physical defects that disqualify him for college work. A review of this certificate is made by the college physician during the week of matriculation for a new student. Examination of a new student by the college physician is limited to a brief evaluation of his cardiac status. Special examinations are given as needed. Continuing efforts are made by the college physician to keep in touch with students who need his attention.

The parents or guardian of the student are required to sign permission for the college physician to authorize emergency treatment. Any unusual circumstances in the treatment of a student will be reported to his parents or guardian.

INFIRMARY

Nurses are on duty at the infirmary from 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. daily Monday through Friday. One nurse is in residence or a student assistant is on duty for emergencies only from 9:00 p.m. to 8:00 a.m. daily Monday through Friday and on weekends. The college physician is in attendance at the infirmary daily at 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday and immediately after church on Sunday. He is available to stop at the infirmary when necessary on his regular trips to and from his home early in the morning or late in the afternoon.

The majority of cases treated in the infirmary involve minor injuries, colds, and digestive upsets. Treatment equipment in the infirmary is limited to that needed for hypodermic and intramuscular injections, ear irrigations, simple dressings, removal of skin sutures and infra-red heat therapy. Medications supplied in the infirmary are limited to vitamins, symptomatic medications, penicillin and antibiotics. A charge based on wholesale cost will be made to the student receiving more expensive items from the infirmary such as antibiotics, and he is billed for same by the business office. The infirmary beds are used primarily for acutely ill students who respond rapidly to rest and conservative treatment. If the student's condition worsens or response to treatment is slow arrangements are made for treatment and laboratory studies in the local hospital or at home.

The college provides the student with group accident and sickness insurance. Information regarding details of this coverage are included in the routine mailing from the college to prospective students.

STUDENT PERSONNEL AND COUNSELING SERVICE

For many years, the college has maintained a student counseling service. The psychological services of the college are concerned with the total person: his natural abilities, aptitudes, interests, and talents. An attempt is made to help the student relate the insights gained in counseling to his choice of a vocation for life. Proper course sequences consonant with the student's aim are identified.

In co-operation with some presbyteries, the services of the guidance center are also available to Presbyterian young people, whether they wish to attend college or not.

Students who enter Hampden-Sydney College are given a series of tests which will help in counseling and in research.

Some students have personal problems which may keep them from getting the most out of college life and which may jeopardize their mental health. These men are encouraged to seek help from the members of the Psychology Department.

LOCATION

Hampden-Sydney College is located seven miles south of Farmville, Virginia, just off U. S. Route 15.

Farmville is on the main line of the Norfolk and Western Railroad and on the Richmond-Knoxville line of the Atlantic Greyhound Corporation.

The post office is Hampden-Sydney, Virginia 23943. The telegraph, express, and freight offices are at Farmville. The college has long-distance telephone connections through Lynchburg.

Trunks, if forwarded by express, should be sent prepaid, marked clearly with sender's name in care of Hampden-Sydney College, Farmville, Virginia 23901.

ROOM AND BOARD

Students must room in the college dormitories in assigned rooms or in houses approved by the dean of students. Each student is responsible for any damage to his room or college property therein.

Dormitory rooms are furnished with dressers, single beds, mattresses, springs, desks, and chairs. Bed coverings, pillow, towels, and the like are furnished by the student.

Cooking in dormitory rooms is not permitted.

No unauthorized electrical equipment will be permitted, and no changes in the wiring shall be made except by the college electrician. The misuse of a radio, television, record player, or tape recorder will necessitate confiscation until the end of the term.

Married students' apartments must also be approved by the dean of students. This should be done before any financial arrangements are made with the landlord.

The college maintains a dining hall in which the most modern equipment, a balanced diet, and excellent service are maintained under the direction of an expert dietitian. All resident students must board at the dining hall. The dormitories and the dining hall are closed during holidays and immediately after Commencement.

AUTOMOBILES, FIREARMS, DOGS

No freshman may keep a car the first semester. Any upperclassman, or any second semester freshman on the dean's list, is eligible to have a car at Hampden-Sydney provided a permit is obtained from the office of the dean of students and the car is operated in accordance with existing college rules and regulations. However, no student receiving financial aid from the college may have a car on campus without the written permission of the student aid committee.

No student is permitted to operate a motorcycle, motorbike, or motorscooter in the village of Hampden-Sydney.

No student is allowed to have a private airplane available for his use while he is at the college.

No student, while he is at the college, may take flying lessons, except with the written consent of his parent and with the approval of the dean of students.

No student is permitted to possess firearms at Hampden-Sydney.*

No student is allowed to bring or to keep a dog at Hampden-Sydney.

The possession or the setting off of fireworks at Hampden-Sydney is forbidden.

Students are expected to abide by the laws of the Commonwealth and the code of social conduct with respect to alcohol.

---

* Students who desire to hunt must arrange with the dean of students for the privilege of having firearms during the hunting season. But no firearms may be kept in the dormitories, fraternity houses, or other student living quarters. Abuse of this regulation may lead to suspension without warning.

MILITARY PROGRAMS

Although Hampden-Sydney College does not have an ROTC program, several commissioning programs are available. The U. S. Marine Corps Platoon Leaders Class or Platoon Leaders Class (Aviation) affords the qualified student an opportunity to become a Marine Officer after earning a baccalaureate degree. PLC's attend two six-week summer training sessions and must maintain a minimum C average while in college.

The Marine Corps Officer representatives visit Hampden-Sydney College during the academic year to provide additional information.

EMERGENCIES

In an emergency, parents may seek assistance from any of the officers of the administration.

FORM OF BEQUEST

I give and bequeath to the President and Trustees of Hampden-Sydney College the sum of ..... for the use of said institution.

LEGAL TITLE

“THE PRESIDENT AND TRUSTEES OF HAMPDEN-SYDNEY COLLEGE”

Communications on business should be addressed to the President.

BIBLE AND RELIGION

PROFESSORS MCRAE, CLOWER; ASSISTANT PROFESSOR NORMENT

Bible 309 is required of all students as part of the 6 hours degree requirement. Western Man 101-102 is prerequisite to any course offered by the department.

The requirements for a major in Bible and Religion are 30 hours in Bible and Religion courses (including the 6 hour degree requirement). Of this total, a minimum of 3 hours must be in Old Testament and 9 hours in New Testament courses. 6 hours in Philosophy courses are also required. Philosophy 403, if elected in addition to the required 6 hours in Philosophy, may be substituted for 3 hours in Bible and Religion. Also recommended: 6 hours in Greek, 6 hours in German.

The requirements for a concentration in Bible and Religion and Philosophy are 18 hours in each department, specific courses and cognate courses to be chosen in consultation with the departments.

BIBLE 305. (3)

The Pentateuch. A study of the first five books of the Old Testament.

BIBLE 306. (3)

The Hebrew Prophets. An investigation of the rise and development of the prophetic movement in Israel, with particular emphasis upon the relevance of the prophets for their own and later times.

BIBLE 308. (3)

The Intertestament Period. An analysis of the transition period in Jewish history from Cyrus to Herod in its relation to postexilic Judaism and New Testament thought.

BIBLE 309. (3)

Jesus in the Synoptic Tradition. An evaluation of the person and work of Jesus as portrayed in Matthew, Mark and Luke. (May be offered both semesters.)

BIBLE 310. (3)

Luke-Acts. A study of the writings and the distinctive perspective of Luke, with particular attention to the book of Acts.

BIBLE 311. (3)

The Labors and Letters of Paul. An examination of Paul's role in the development of the New Testament Church.

BIBLE 312. (3)

Romans. A study of Paul's theology as developed in his letter to the Church at Rome.

BIBLE 314. (3)

The Johannine Literature. A study of the five New Testament books traditionally associated with "John"—The Gospel of John, the Epistles of John, the Revelation.

RELIGION 316. (3)

Christian Ethics. A study of the ethical relevance of Christian faith as understood by the New Testament Church and subsequent Christian interpreters. Prerequisite, Bible 309.

RELIGION 317. (3)

Religion in America. A study of the role of religion in the development of American culture, with particular attention to distinctive Christian groups and to significant trends in American Christian thought.

RELIGION 405. (3)

Religions of India. A study of the religions of India and of the historical and cultural context in which they developed. Prerequisite, Bible 309.

RELIGION 406. (3)

Religions of East Asia. A study of Taoism, Confucianism, Shintoism, and Buddhism in the context of the history and culture of East Asia. Prerequisite, Bible 309.

RELIGION 408. (3)

Contemporary Christian Theology. A study of major developments and the writings of significant leaders, European and American, in 20th century Christian thought, with particular attention to current trends. Prerequisite, Bible 309.

HONORS

Honors work in the form of supervised reading and research is available to advanced students.

BIOLOGY

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR TURNER; ASSISTANT PROFESSORS CRAWFORD, GEM-BORYS; MR. BRUCE

Requirements for a major in Biology include the following courses: Physics 101-102; Chemistry 101-102, 201-202, 151-152, 251-252; Math 101-102; Biology 103-104, 211 or 222, 253-254, 311 and an additional three courses selected from the remaining offerings of the department after consultation with the Biology faculty. Note: Students should also consult with the faculty about additional math courses which may be desirable for their particular major program.

BIOLOGY 103. (3)

General Biology. An introduction to biological phenomena that contribute to man's appreciation of himself and his environment. Topics include a study of molecular and Mendelian genetics, evolution, biotic interrelationships, homeostatic phenomena and related physiological mechanisms. This course fills the biology portion of the science requirement for graduation and, unless otherwise specified by the staff, serves as a prerequisite for all other courses in the department. To be offered in the fall and spring terms 1969-1970. A separate one credit hour laboratory course, 103L, must be taken by students enrolled in Biology 103.

BIOLOGY 103L. (1)

A laboratory course meeting once a week for three hours. The purpose of this course is to acquaint students with some living organisms and to introduce them to the values and limitations of scientific inquiry. This course is to be taken by all students enrolled in Biology 103.

BIOLOGY 104. (4)

General Biological Science. An introduction to the molecular, anatomical, physiological and related homeostatic phenomena of living systems with an emphasis placed on higher plants and animals. Unless otherwise specified by the staff, a prerequisite for this course is Biology 103. Not offered in the fall or spring term 1969-1970.

BIOLOGY 204. (2)

Seminar in Parasitology. A study of the parasites in local vertebrates with emphasis on collecting, technique of mounting, identification, and life histories. This seminar, consisting of laboratory and reference work, is designed primarily for biology majors, with three hour sessions in alternate weeks. Prerequisite, Biology 103-104.

BIOLOGY 205. (2)

Seminar in Comparative Animal Physiology. A comparative study of osmotic balance, ion regulation, respiration, metabolism, nutrition, nervous systems and hormonal balance primarily among invertebrate forms of life. Meetings twice a month, no laboratory.

BIOLOGY 211. (4)

Developmental Biology. Principles of embryology involving physiological biochemical, and genetical influences on differentiation of cells and tissues with emphasis on the origin of vertebrate organ systems. Three lectures and one laboratory per week.

BIOLOGY 222. (4)

Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy. Morphology and evolution of organs and organ systems in chordate animals. Three lectures and one laboratory per week. Prerequisite, Biology 211 or permission of instructor.

BIOLOGY 241. (4)

Invertebrate Zoology. Morphology, ecology, systematics, physiology, and evolution of invertebrate animals. Three lectures and one laboratory per week. Offered second semester 1968-1969.

BIOLOGY 253-254. (0-5)

Plant Communities. A consideration of the interrelationships between plants and their environment with the main emphasis being on the synecological rather than the autecological relationships. These relationships will be observed through study of the major plant communities of Virginia. Emphasis will be placed on the role of succession and environment in the development of plant associations. Three lectures and one laboratory per week, first semester; one laboratory per week, second semester. The work in the second semester will consist of directed study of a problem of interest to the student and will be based on the principles and methods studied in the first semester.

BIOLOGY 255-256. (0-5)

Animal Ecology. A consideration of the interrelationships between animals and their environment. The work will include study of the balance of nature, population cycles, natural regulation of animal numbers, competition, epizootics, and the compensatory adjustments of population to changes in the environment. A collection will be required. Three lectures and one laboratory per week, first semester; one laboratory per week, second semester. The work in the second semester will consist of directed study of a problem of interest to the student and will be based on the principles and methods studied in the first semester.

BIOLOGY 261. (4)

Birds and Mammals. Basic taxonomy, ecology, evolution and some biological principles of the homiothermic vertebrates. Laboratory studies include consideration of population dynamics, sampling procedures, and recognition of these animals. Independent research and collection required. Three lectures, one laboratory per week.

BIOLOGY 311. (4)

Genetics. Principles of heredity and variation as developed from the morphological, physiological, and biochemical levels of gene action. Three lectures and one laboratory per week. Prerequisite, Chemistry 101-102.

BIOLOGY 320. (4)

Microbiology. Morphology, physiology, systematics and ecology of microorganisms with major emphasis on the bacteria. This course is conducted along audio-tutorial lines and is open only to upperclassmen with the chairman's approval. Three study sessions per week along with special laboratory problems. Prerequisite, Chemistry 101-102.

BIOLOGY 331-332. (4-4)

Biochemistry and Cell Physiology. A structural and functional study of the cell, with emphasis in the first semester on biochemical and ultrastructural aspects of cell metabolism, and in the second semester on major elements of cell physiology, including cell growth and division, differentiation, irritability, contractility, active transport and photosynthesis. Laboratory exercises include problems in viscometry, protein fingerprinting, histochemistry, enzyme isolation and purification, enzyme kinetics, electrophoresis, ion exchange chromatography, nerve-muscle physiology, differential centrifugation, manometry and spectrophotometry. Three lectures and one laboratory per week. Prerequisite or corequisite, Chemistry 211-212. Prerequisite for second semester: Biology 331 or consent of the instructor.

BIOLOGY 342. (4)

Plant Physiology. A consideration of the fundamental life processes of plants, including photosynthesis, water relations, growth regulators, photoperiodic responses, and mineral nutrition. Primary emphasis to be placed on laboratory work and independent research. Two lectures, two laboratories per week.

INDEPENDENT WORK

Independent study for one credit hour per semester is available in the department. Opportunities exist for independent work and study at coastal marine laboratories during the summer months. Interested students should consult with the biology faculty about the program.

CHEMISTRY

PROFESSORS SMITH, PORTERFIELD; ASSISTANT PROFESSORS BUTCHER, SIPE; MR. BASS.

The requirements for a major in Chemistry are:

1. Chemistry courses must include 101-102, 201-202, 301-302, and 401 from the concepts track, and all of the courses in the techniques track. In addition, two more courses must be chosen from the following list: Chemistry 311, 322, 412, or 499; Biology 331. For the ACS-accredited degree, these two courses must be Chemistry 311 and 322.
2. The student must satisfactorily complete Mathematics 101, 102, 201, and 205; Physics 101, 151, 102, 152, and Biology 103.
3. Biology 104 and additional mathematics are recommended.

CONCEPTS TRACK

CHEMISTRY 101-102. (3-3)

Concepts of Chemistry. A study of the basic concepts of physical and inorganic chemistry. Chemistry 101 is prerequisite to Chemistry 102. Corequisites, Chemistry 151-152.

CHEMISTRY 201-202. (3-3)

Organic Chemistry. An integrated treatment of aliphatic and aromatic compounds of carbon with emphasis on reaction mechanisms, stereochemistry, and spectroscopy. Prerequisites, Chemistry 102 for 201 and 201 for 202. Corequisites, Chemistry 251-252.

CHEMISTRY 301. (3)

Physical Chemistry. Statistical mechanics, thermodynamics, kinetics. Prerequisites, Chemistry 102, 152, Physics 102. Corequisite, Mathematics 205. Concurrent registration in Chemistry 311 is recommended.

CHEMISTRY 302. (3)

Physical Chemistry. Electrochemistry, spectroscopy, crystallography, molecular structure. Prerequisites, Chemistry 301, Mathematics 201.

CHEMISTRY 311. (3)

Quantum Chemistry. Introductory quantum mechanics and current semi-empirical applications to chemistry. Prerequisites, Chemistry 202, Mathematics 201. Concurrent registration in Mathematics 205 is recommended.

CHEMISTRY 322. (3)

Advanced Inorganic Chemistry. Continuation of structural calculations from Chemistry 311, and other theoretical aspects. Descriptive material on a collateral-reading basis. Prerequisite, Chemistry 311 or consent of instructor. Corequisite, Chemistry 302.

CHEMISTRY 401. (2)

Chemical Instrumentation. Principles of instrumental analysis. Prerequisites, Chemistry 302, Physics 210.

CHEMISTRY 412. (3)

Advanced Organic Chemistry. Selected topics from the following areas: reaction mechanisms, conformational analysis, structure elucidation, advanced syntheses, and structure/reactivity correlation. Prerequisites, Chemistry 301 and consent of instructor.

CHEMISTRY 499. (3)

Special Topics. Individual study of advanced topics of current research interest on a tutorial basis. Prerequisite, consent of the instructor. May be offered either semester.

TECHNIQUES TRACK*CHEMISTRY 151-152. (1-1)

Techniques of Chemistry. A series of open-ended projects which require independent use of library and laboratory facilities and which include quantitative analysis. Breakage deposit, $12.00. Corequisites, Chemistry 101-102.

CHEMISTRY 251-252. (1-1)

Organic Chemical Techniques. A series of open-ended, multi-step synthesis projects and chromatographic and spectroscopic analyses of mixtures. Breakage deposit, $15.00. Prerequisite, Chemistry 152. Corequisites, Chemistry 201-202.

CHEMISTRY 262. (1)

Synthetic Techniques. The student is required to adapt modern synthetic methods to the macro-scale preparation of some previously-unreported compounds. Corequisite, Chemistry 202 and permission of the instructor.

CHEMISTRY 351-352. (2-2)

Techniques of Physical Measurement. A series of open-ended projects involving the accurate determination and interpretation of selected physical and chemical properties. Prerequisite, Chemistry 252. Corequisites, Chemistry 301-302.

CHEMISTRY 451-452. (2-2)

Modern Techniques of Analysis. A series of open-ended projects involving chemical analysis and structure determination by instrumental methods. Prerequisite, Chemistry 352. Corequisite, Chemistry 401.

CLASSICS

PROFESSORS THOMPSON, YOUNG; ASSISTANT PROFESSORS THOMAS, BRINKLEY; MR. HOGAN.

The requirements for a major in Greek are at least 12 hours in Greek courses at the 300 level; Philosophy 301; History 321, 322; Fine Arts 301.

The requirements for a major in Latin are at least 12 hours in Latin courses at the 300 level; Philosophy 301; History 321, 322; Fine Arts 301.

A concentration in Greek and Latin will require at least 12 hours in each language, including six hours in one at the 300 level. Philosophy 301; Fine Arts 301; History 321-322.

GREEK

GREEK 101-102. (0-6)

Elementary Greek. This course is an introduction to the Greek language through the study of forms, vocabulary, and syntax. During the last part of the year selections of simple Greek prose will be read.

GREEK 201-202. (0-6)

Intermediate Greek. Selections will be read from the works of Greek prose writers. There will be a continuing study of grammar.

GREEK 301. (3)

The Greek New Testament. Selections drawn largely from Luke and Acts will be read in the original Greek. Some time will be devoted to lectures, collateral readings, and reports on the principles of palaeography and textual criticism.

GREEK 302. (3)

Greek Drama. Representative plays of Aeschylus, Sophocles, Euripides, or Aristophanes will be read and discussed as dramatic pieces, and in their relation to the origin of tragedy and comedy and the development of the theatre.

GREEK 303-304. (3-3)

Greek Historians. Selections from Herodotus' History of the Persian Wars or Thucydides' History of the Peloponnesian War. Parallel work will focus on the beginnings of historical writing and the principles of historiography.

GREEK 305-308. (3 each semester)

Advanced Greek. The reading and discussion of selected works of Greek literature, chosen according to the needs of the class. Among authors that may be selected are Homer, Plato, Plutarch, Demosthenes, and the Athenian orators.

The courses listed at the 300-level have as prerequisite Greek 201-202. Of these, only as many will be taught in any one session as the demand justifies.

HONORS

Honors work in the form of supervised reading and research is available to advanced students.

LATIN

LATIN 101-102. (0-6)

Introduction to Latin. This course is designed for students with no previous experience with Latin. The text is written for adults; the sentences and drill exercises in forms and syntax are based on classical authors. Each lesson emphasizes the indebtedness of English to Latin with systematic work in etymology. In addition to the regular class meetings, the instructor and student assistants are available for extra help.

LATIN 103-104. (0-6)

Readings in Roman History or Classical Mythology. This course will consist of a review of Latin fundamentals and the translation of easy prose. It is open only to members of the classes of 1970 and 1971. Prerequisite, two years of secondary school Latin.

LATIN 201-202. (0-6)

First Semester: Ovid. Selections from Ovid's Ars Amatoria will be read, preceded by a review of Latin fundamentals. In addition, a part of each week's work will be devoted to a study of the Latin element in the English language, with a view to enlarging both the English and the Latin vocabulary of the student.

Second Semester: Vergil. Selections from the Aeneid. The etymological study will be continued. Prerequisite, two entrance units in Latin, or Latin 101-102 or Latin 103-104.

LATIN 301-302. (3-3)

Latin Literature of the Republic. Reading matter will be chosen from the comedies of Plautus and Terence, the essays of Cicero, the De Rerum Natura of Lucretius, and the poems of Catullus. Some time will be devoted also to the study of the Greek element in the English language. This course alternates with Latin 303-304 and will be given in 1969-70. Prerequisite, three entrance units in Latin, or Latin 201-202.

LATIN 303-304. (3-3)

Latin Literature of the Empire. This course will follow the plan of Latin 301-302, but the reading matter will come from Livy, Horace, Seneca, Petronius, Martial, Tacitus, and Pliny. This course alternates with Latin 301-302 and will not be given in 1969-70. Prerequisite, three entrance units in Latin, or Latin 201-202.

LATIN 401-408. (3 each semester)

Advanced readings in Latin literature. The courses will be devoted to intensive study of individual authors such as Lucretius, Tacitus, Livy, Ovid, Horace, or to literary genres such as Roman satire, elegiac poetry, epistolography, history.

LATIN 411. (3)

Latin composition and grammar.

LATIN 412. (3)

Latin palaeography.

HONORS

Honors work in the form of supervised reading and research is available to advanced students.

CLASSICAL STUDIES

GREEK HISTORY 321. (3)

A historical survey of the cultural, political, economic, and social aspects of Greek civilization to the time of the Roman Empire. This course does not assume a knowledge of Greek and will not satisfy any of the language requirements. It carries credit toward a History major.

ROMAN HISTORY 322. (3)

The rise and decline of Rome as a world-state. Its importance to Western civilization. Its contributions in fields of government, law, literature, art, architecture. The beginnings of the Christian Church.

This course does not assume a knowledge of Latin and will not satisfy any of the language requirements. It carries credit toward a History major.

LINGUISTICS 301. (3)

Descriptive Linguistics. A survey of the techniques and findings of modern linguistic study, with appropriate introduction to the disciplines of phonetics, phonemics, morphology, and syntax. Some field work required, in the form of independent study projects.

LINGUISTICS 302. (3)

Historical Linguistics. Thorough study of the comparative method of linguistic reconstruction, and of the nature of linguistic evolution. Each student is required to do practical, independent work in a language of his competence, which may be English. Prerequisites: Linguistics 301, and at least 12 hours at the 300 level in a foreign language.

ECONOMICS

ASSISTANT PROFESSORS PEARLMAN, SWAN; MR. CRISTO.

The requirements for an Economics major are:

- (1) Mathematics 101 and 103
- (2) A minimum of 27 hours of Economics to include Economics 401-402, 403-404, and 406.

ECONOMICS 101. (3)

Elements of Modern Economics. The general problem of allocating resources to satisfy human wants. Markets and the price system in the American economy. Income and employment in the economy as a whole. Prerequisite for all other Economics courses.

ECONOMICS 301. (3)

Money and Banking. Analysis of fractional-reserve banking and the Federal Reserve System. The role of money in the economic system as reviewed by Keynesian and neo-classical monetary theory. Fiscal and monetary policy. Prerequisite, Economics 101.

ECONOMICS 302. (3)

Comparative Economic Systems. Resource allocation and economic growth under various institutional frameworks—capitalism, the command economy, and mixed economic systems. Both theoretical models and existing economic systems will be covered. Prerequisite, Economics 101.

ECONOMICS 303. (3)

Economic Development of Western Civilization. Features of historical economic development from medieval period to the present. Emphasis is on European and, particularly, British experience.

ECONOMICS 304. (3)

History of Economic Thought. This class studies changing economic attitudes and theories from the beginning of history to our own time, as related to other areas of social thought and to changes in economic organization. Aspects of contemporary interest are emphasized. Prerequisite, Economics 101 and Economics 303.

ECONOMICS 305. (3)

International Economics. A study of the basis for international trade. The Balance of International Payments and Adjustment mechanisms. Current problems related to the role of the United States in the world economy and international economic reform. Prerequisite, Economics 101. Suggested preparation Economics 401 and 403.

ECONOMICS 306. (3)

Economic Development. Theories of development mainly related to the underdeveloped economies. The role of capital investment, international trade, and foreign aid in economic growth. Case studies will be used. Prerequisite, Economics 101. Suggested preparation Economics 401 and 403.

ECONOMICS 307. (3)

American Economic History. Economic growth of the United States from colonial times to the present. Special attention given to using theoretical and quantitative tools in examining the historical record.

ECONOMICS 308. (3)

The Soviet Union and Eastern Europe. An investigation into the economic structure of communist societies. Emphasis will be placed on the planning system and recent reform movements.

ECONOMICS 401-402. (3-3)

Micro-Economic Theory. The theory of pricing of final products and factors of production. Comparison of resource allocation under competition and monopoly. The second semester will be concerned with applying theoretical tools in problem solving. Topics to be discussed are capital investment criteria, the role of advertising, human capital in production.

ECONOMICS 403-404. (3-3)

Macro-Economic Theory. Classical, neo-classical, and Keynesian theories of income determination. The second semester will be concerned with the problems of inflation and economic growth.

ECONOMICS 406. (3)

Independent Studies in Economics. Each student will investigate a special topic or area, which may be in some field not previously studied or in one in which previous study can be carried further on a particular part or problem. A paper is to be presented, describing some features of the work done and embodying the conclusions reached. In addition to his own study, the student will be expected to criticize that of another. Individual work is supplemented by group discussion. Open only to seniors who are economics majors.

ENGLISH

PROFESSORS SIMPSON, CRAWLEY; ASSISTANT PROFESSORS HOFFMAN, ELMORE, MARTIN, MCILWAINE.

The requirements for a major in English are 24 hours in English courses, not including English 103, 201-202, or 419-420. Recommended: History 319-320; Philosophy 301-302, 201; and twelve hours in language beyond the degree requirements.

ENGLISH 103. (2)

Composition. Both semesters. Fundamentals of English composition and rhetoric. Enrollment by referral.

ENGLISH 201-202. (0-6)

The History of English Literature. A survey of English literature from the beginning to the present day. Parallel reading is required.

ENGLISH 301-302. (0-6)

Shakespeare. All the principal plays of the dramatist are read. The course includes a careful study of Shakespeare as a poet and dramatic artist, and a study of the development of the Elizabethan theater.

ENGLISH 303-304. (0-6)

American Literature. A study of the growth of American literature, with emphasis upon the political, social, and economic forces that have strongly influenced the literary development of the nation.

ENGLISH 305. (3)

History of the English Language. A study of the growth and development of the English language. Not offered in 1969-70.

ENGLISH 307-308. (3-3)

Victorian Literature. A study of the poets and essayists from 1832 to the modern period. Not offered in 1969-70.

ENGLISH 309. (3)

Contemporary British and American Poetry. A critical study of the major British and American poets of the twentieth century. Not offered in 1969-70.

ENGLISH 311. (3)

The English Romantics. A study of the major Romantic poets, together with a survey of other Romantic and Pre-Romantic writers.

ENGLISH 313. (3)

Sixteenth-Century Literature. Non-dramatic English literature of the Tudor period.

ENGLISH 314. (3)

Seventeenth-Century Literature. Non-dramatic English literature of the seventeenth century, exclusive of Milton.

ENGLISH 401. (3)

English Drama. English drama, exclusive of the Shakespearean, from the medieval to the modern period.

ENGLISH 402. (3)

Modern Drama. European and American drama from 1880 to the present.

ENGLISH 403. (3)

English Novel. The English novel of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries.

ENGLISH 404. (3)

Contemporary British and American Novel. Novelists of the twentieth century.

ENGLISH 405. (3)

Early English Literature in Translation. English literature from the beginning to 1400, exclusive of Chaucer. Not offered in 1969-70.

ENGLISH 406. (3)

Chaucer. The Canterbury Tales and other main works of Chaucer in Middle English.

ENGLISH 407. (3)

Milton. Milton's poetry, with emphasis upon Paradise Lost, Paradise Regained, and Samson Agonistes as a trilogy. His prose is considered in so far as it contributes to an understanding of his thought and poetic achievement. Not offered in 1969-70.

ENGLISH 410. (3)

Literary Criticism. Fundamental critical theories from Aristotle to the present, especially modern trends in criticism, and introduction to the practice of critical techniques.

ENGLISH 419-420. (3-3)

Creative Writing. Emphasis is on writing short stories, although work may be done on poems, plays, and the novel. Open to upperclassmen, with the consent of the instructor. Elective credit only.

LINGUISTICS 301. (3) (see Classical Studies)

LINGUISTICS 302. (3) (see Classical Studies)

FINE ARTS

PROFESSOR THOMPSON

FINE ARTS 301-302. (3-3)

The History of the Fine Arts. This course is designed to promote the enjoyment of the fine arts—painting, architecture, and sculpture. A knowledge of ancient, medieval, and modern history and of ancient and modern languages is useful as background information but is not a requirement. The course includes a spring trip to the Washington galleries. Open to upperclassmen with the consent of the professor. Will not be offered in 1969-70.

FINE ARTS 303-304. (3-3)

Music Appreciation. Primarily a listening course. The aim is an increased familiarity with the world's great music, the major musical forms, and the outstanding composers. No special musical knowledge or ability is required. Open to upperclassmen with the consent of the professor. The work of the first semester is a prerequisite for the second. Will be offered in 1969-70.

HISTORY

PROFESSOR BLISS; ASSISTANT PROFESSORS LAINE, HEINEMANN, SIMMS.

The requirements for a major in History are 30 hours in History courses including History 101-102; any one course in Political Science; Economics 101, 302; Philosophy 201.

Starting with the class of 1971, History 501 (3)—Thesis for Majors—will be required for History majors.

Starting with the class of 1971 requirements for a major in History are 30 hours in history courses, including History 501. Of these 30 hours, at least 12 must be in American History and 12 in any field outside American History. In addition, history majors must take any one course (3 hours) in each of the fields of Political Science, Economics and Philosophy.

A concentration in History and Economics will require the completion of a minimum of 18 hours in each field and such cognate courses as the departments of History and Economics may prescribe for each individual student.

HISTORY 101-102. (3-3)

Modern Europe. The study of Western Civilization from the Renaissance and Reformation to the present century with emphasis on those movements and institutions which have determined the form of the contemporary Western World. Open only to those who need it to satisfy graduation requirements.

HISTORY 201-202. (3-3)

United States. The first semester is confined to the period from the establishment of the colonies to the close of the Civil War with emphasis on the period following 1763, especially the years 1830-1860. The second semester begins with Reconstruction and ends with the New Deal, with emphasis on the rise of Progressivism. Open only to freshmen and sophomores.

HISTORY 302. (3)

Medieval Civilization. From the decline of the Roman Empire to the beginnings of the Modern Age. Emphasis is placed on the rise of feudal institutions, the rise of Christianity and the medieval church, the conflict between papal and secular governments, and the beginnings of nationality. This course will be offered in 1969-70.

HISTORY 303-304. (3-3)

Civil War and Reconstruction. The United States from the Missouri Compromise to the Compromise of 1877. The first semester covers the awakening of American Nationalism, Jacksonian Democracy, Manifest Destiny, and the origins of the Civil War. The War and Reconstruction comprise the second semester.

HISTORY 307-308. (3-3)

The Far East. The impact of the West on East Asia and the resulting response of Asia to the Western invasion. Special emphasis is given to China—the traditional Chinese culture, society, and institutions, the influence of Chinese civilization on surrounding countries, the growth of nationalism in China, the Japanese invasion of China, and the rise to power of the Chinese Communists.

HISTORY 311-312. (3-3)

Russian History. The first semester covers the period from the founding of Kievan Russia in the ninth century to the end of Alexander I's reign in 1825. The second semester carries the story to the present. This course will be offered in 1969-70.

HISTORY 313. (3)

United States Diplomatic History. A survey of American diplomacy from the Revolution to the present with in-depth analysis of the events since 1898 which have determined the present position of the United States in world affairs.

HISTORY 314. (3)

Seminar in Twentieth Century American Diplomacy. A thorough investigation of United States foreign relations in this century utilizing outside readings, student papers, and class discussions. Admission by consent of the instructor. Prerequisite: History 313.

HISTORY 317. (3)

The Negro in America. A study of the Negro's contribution to American history and culture, both individually and collectively. Emphasis will be given to the institutions of slavery and segregation, Black leadership, and the present day racial crisis.

HISTORY 319-320. (3-3)

England and the British Empire. The origins and growth of English institutions and their spread to other parts of the world. Particular attention is devoted to the English contribution in government and law, to Britain's relations with the rest of the world, and to the rise and decline of her empire. The first semester ends with the overthrow of James II. Prerequisite, History 101-102.

GREEK HISTORY 321.(3) (see Classical Studies)

ROMAN HISTORY 322. (3) (see Classical Studies)

HISTORY 401-402. (3-3)

The Twentieth Century World. The first semester is a study of the international scene between 1918 and 1945 with emphasis on conditions leading to the outbreak of World War II. The second semester is essentially concerned with the origins of tension between East and West blocs with particular emphasis on developments in the Near East, Africa, and Asia. This course will be offered in 1969-70.

HISTORY 403-404. (3-3)

Modern America. The United States since the end of Reconstruction. The triumph of the industrial system, the Progressive movement, and World War I are covered in the first semester; the Twenties, the New Deal, World War II and its aftermath are major topics of the second.

HISTORY 405-406. (3-3)

Europe from 1870 to the present. A study of Europe from 1870 to the Cold War with the demarcation point being the end of World War I. Special emphasis will be placed on the background, circumstances, and causes of the two world wars.

HISTORY 407-408. (3-3)

Renaissance and Reformation. The semester on the Renaissance examines the decline of characteristic features of medieval civilization and the rise of modern European institutions with particular attention to intellectual movements from Dante to Erasmus. That on the Reformation considers the origins of Luther's revolt, the course of the Reformation in its different forms, and the development of the Counter-Reformation.

All 300 and 400 level courses open only to juniors and seniors or with the consent of the instructor.

INTERSCIENCE

FACULTY OF THE DEPARTMENTS OF BIOLOGY, CHEMISTRY, MATHEMATICS, AND PHYSICS.

The requirement for the Interscience Major is 58 semester hours work in Mathematics (beyond the 100 level) and the Natural Sciences, including a concentration in one discipline.

The minimum requirement for a concentration in each department is:

- (a) Biology—23 semester hours
- (b) Chemistry—22 semester hours, including at least 3 semester hours in Physical Chemistry.
- (c) Mathematics—Mathematics 301-302 and an additional 6 semester hours at the 300 or 400 level.
- (d) Physics—20 semester hours and Mathematics 301-302.

In addition, courses used to fulfill the 58 hour requirement must form a coherent program. To assure this, the student's major program must be approved by the department in which the concentration is taken, and must be filed with the registrar. This will normally be done at the end of the student's sophomore year.

MATHEMATICS

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR SELDEN; ASSISTANT PROFESSORS ENGEL, ESPIGH, FRANKE; MESSRS. DEACLE, WU.

The requirements for a major in Mathematics are a minimum of 36 semester hours in Mathematics courses including Mathematics 303-304, 305-306, 403-404.

The Computer Science Option consists essentially of a major in Mathematics with additional elective courses selected from the field of computer science. Students planning advanced work in computing are advised to take Mathematics courses 101, 102, 201, 202, 301, 302, 308, 401, and at least two of Mathematics 303, 306, 309, 310, 402. In addition, the following Computer Science courses should be included: Mathematics 205, 206, 311, 312, 409, and 410. Students interested in pursuing the Computer Science Option are advised to consult with a member of the Computer Science Faculty no later than the second semester of his freshman year.

MATHEMATICS 100. (4)

Elementary Functions. Algebraic and transcendental functions, vectors, sequences, series, limits and introductory topics in calculus. (Offered both semesters.)

MATHEMATICS 101. (4)

Analysis I. Introductory Calculus. (Offered both semesters.)

MATHEMATICS 102. (4)

Analysis II. Multivariable Calculus. Prerequisite, Math 101 or equivalent, or advanced placement examination. (Offered both semesters.)

MATHEMATICS 103. (4)

Statistics. Introduction to Probability and Statistics. (Offered both semesters.)

MATHEMATICS 104. (3)

Mathematics for Business Management. Modern mathematical concepts and structures as applied to business management.

MATHEMATICS 301. (3)

Calculus. Infinite series, hyperbolic functions, solid analytic geometry, partial derivatives, multiple integrals, and vectors. Prerequisite, Math 102 or equivalent, or advanced placement examination.

MATHEMATICS 302. (3)

Differential Equations. Theory and applications of solutions of ordinary differential equations. Prerequisite, Math 301.

MATHEMATICS 303. (3)

Modern Algebra. Sets, rings, integral domains, number systems, fields and groups. Prerequisite, Math 102 or equivalent.

MATHEMATICS 304. (3)

Linear Algebra. Linear systems, functionals, transformations, vectors and vector spaces, Prerequisite, Math 102.

MATHEMATICS 305-306. (3-3)

Geometry. Euclidean geometry from an advanced viewpoint and an introduction to non-Euclidean geometries and some topological concepts. Prerequisite, Math 102. Math 305 is prerequisite for Math 306. (Not offered in 1969-70.)

MATHEMATICS 307. (3)

Numerical Analysis. Solution to problems of analysis by numeric methods, and study of error analysis. Prerequisite, Math 205 and 302.

MATHEMATICS 403-404. (3-3)

Analysis. Number systems, limits, functions, point sets, partial derivatives, transformations and mappings, vectors, and vector fields, line and surface integrals. Prerequisite, Math 301-302. Math 403 is prerequisite for Math 404.

MATHEMATICS 405-406. (3-3)

Topics in Advanced Mathematics. Partial differential equations, complex functions, Fourier analysis, and numerical methods. Admission by consent of the department.

MATHEMATICS 407-408. (3-3)

Mathematics Seminar. A seminar course of selected topics in mathematics. Admission by consent of the department.

COMPUTER SCIENCE COURSES

MATHEMATICS 205. (3)

Introduction to Computing. Discussion of algorithms, programs, and computers. Extensive work in the preparation, running, debugging and documenting of programs. Discussion of organization and characteristics of hardware and software systems.

MATHEMATICS 206. (3)

Computers and Programming. Computer structure with reference to programming applications of the structure. Machine and assembly language programming concepts will be discussed with exercises, illustrating the discussions, given on available computing systems. Prerequisite, Math 205.

MATHEMATICS 311. (3)

Introduction to Information Structures. Selected topics in discrete mathematics to include Boolean Algebra, Propositional Logic, and Graph Theory. Description of data bases and their structure, sorting and searching of information from files, referencing and processing techniques based on structure. List processing, content addressing and cross-referencing of files. Prerequisite, Math 206.

MATHEMATICS 312. (3)

Programming Languages. Formal definition of programming languages to include specification of syntax and semantics. Comparative studies of algorithmic, list processing, string manipulation, simulation, and algebraic manipulation languages. Prerequisite, Math 206.

MATHEMATICS 409. (3)

Computer Organization. Discussion of computer hardware and its design, with emphasis on the means by which machines can be constructed to serve a given application. Prerequisite, Math 206 and 312. (Not offered 1969-70.)

MATHEMATICS 410. (3)

Systems Programming. Study of construction of software to handle the operation of a computing system. Topics covered include batch processing systems, multiprogramming and multiprocessor systems and addressing techniques. Prerequisite, Math 311, 312, and 409. (Not offered 1969-70.)

MATHEMATICS 411. (3)

Compiler Construction. Study of techniques required in the analysis of a source language and its conversion to efficient object code. Design of simple compilers. Prerequisite, Math 410. (Not offered 1969-70.)

MATHEMATICS 412. (3)

Advanced Topics in Computer Science. Selected topics in computer science and numerical mathematics to be determined by the interests of the class. Prerequisite, Math 411. (Not offered 1969-70.)

MODERN LANGUAGES

PROFESSORS FIRENZE, WHITTED, HOLBROOK, LEDUC; MR. JOLLEY.

The requirements for a major in French are 24 hours in French courses numbered 301 and higher; Fine Arts 301-302; an ancient or another modern language through 202.

The requirements for a major in Spanish are eighteen semester hours in Spanish courses numbered 301 and higher; Fine Arts 302; Latin 101-102 (or equivalent) or another modern foreign language through 202.

For a concentration in two modern languages the student must complete in each language a one-year course at the 400 level.

FRENCH

FRENCH 101-102. (0-6)

Introduction to French. Grammar, reading, and drill in pronunciation. Credit toward satisfaction of the language requirement only if followed by French 201-202. Laboratory required.

FRENCH 201-202. (0-6)

Intermediate French. A balanced course with emphasis on reading. Prerequisite, French 101-102 or two years of high-school French.

FRENCH 301-302. (0-6)

Modern French Literature. A survey of French literature from the French Revolution to the present; representative readings from major works. A considerable amount of outside reading is done in this course. Prerequisite, French 201-202, or its equivalent.

FRENCH 303-304. (3-3)

French Literature of the Twentieth Century. A study of the outstanding authors and literary genres of the period. Prerequisite, French 301-302. Will not be offered in 1969-70.

FRENCH 401-402. (3-3)

French Civilization. A study in French of the history, geography, art, architecture, customs, manners, and government of France. French will be used regularly in the recitations. Sources studied include literary works, historical accounts, factual compilations, and current periodicals. Prerequisite, French 301-302 or permission of the instructor. Will not be offered in 1969-70.

FRENCH 403-404. (3-3)

French Literature Before the Revolution. First semester: from the earliest period to 1715. Second semester: the 18th century. Prerequisite, French 301-302.

GERMAN

GERMAN 101-102. (0-6)

Introduction to German. A thorough familiarity with the language is developed by constant grammatical drill, composition, and translation. A reasonable amount of simple narrative prose is read. Credit toward satisfaction of the language requirement only if followed by German 201-202. Laboratory required.

GERMAN 201-202. (0-6)

Intermediate German. The transition to more difficult reading material is effected as easily and yet as rapidly as possible. A systematic review of grammar is made. Prerequisite, German 101-102 or two years of high school German.

GERMAN 301-302. (0-6)

Survey of German Literature. The history of German literature from the beginnings to our day, with class reading of selected poetry, prose and drama of the 19th and 20th centuries. Term reports on extensive parallel reading. Prerequisite, German 201-202, or its equivalent.

SPANISH

SPANISH 101-102. (0-6)

Introduction to Spanish. The elements of grammar, composition, and pronunciation. Credit toward satisfaction of the language requirement only if followed by Spanish 201-202. Laboratory required.

SPANISH 201-202. (0-6)

Intermediate Spanish. A review of grammar will be covered. Oral practice based on readings from Spanish and Spanish-American writers will be emphasized. Prerequisite, Spanish 101-102 or two years of high school Spanish.

SPANISH 301-302. (3-3)

Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Literature. A survey course of Spanish literature from the Romantic Period in the Nineteenth Century to the present time. There will be outside readings. Prerequisite, Spanish 201-202, or its equivalent.

SPANISH 401-402. (3-3)

Latin-American Literature. The study of Spanish-American literature and civilization from the colonial period to the present day. A part of the course will be devoted to advanced grammar and conversation. Alternates with Spanish 403-404. Will be given in 1969-70. Prerequisite, Spanish 301-302 or permission of the instructor.

SPANISH 403-404. (3-3)

Spanish Literature before 1700. This course will survey the development of Spanish literature from its beginning to the eighteenth century. However, most of the work in class will be limited to the study of the Spanish Epic, the Picaresque Novel, Cervantes, and the Siglo de Oro drama. Outside readings will be required. Alternates with Spanish 401-402. Prerequisite, Spanish 301-302. Will not be given in 1969-70.

PHILOSOPHY

ASSISTANT PROFESSORS IVERSON, HINCHCLIFF.

The requirements for a major in Philosophy are Philosophy 201, 301-302 and an additional 15 hours in Philosophy courses.

PHILOSOPHY 201. (3)

Logic. Deductive reasoning, causal analysis, hypotheses and other aspects of scientific method; introduction to symbolic logic.

PHILOSOPHY 301-302. (3-3)

History of Philosophy. The leading systems of Western thought from the early Greeks to the present with emphasis upon the great philosophers such as Plato, Aristotle, Aquinas, Kant, Hegel, Kierkegaard and Whitehead; the relevance of their thought to social, political, and religious movements. Open to qualified sophomores.

PHILOSOPHY 303. (3)

An Introduction to Metaphysics. The nature of truth; the relationship of mind and body; space, time and cosmology; freedom of the will; the existence of God; the meaning of history.

PHILOSOPHY 304. (3)

Ethics. The principal ethical theories of the right and the good; the problem of ethical decision and the scale of values.

PHILOSOPHY 306. (3)

Social Philosophy. The nature of man in society as viewed from the standpoint of classical realism, idealism, liberalism, Marxism, pragmatism and existentialism.

PHILOSOPHY 401. (3)

Contemporary Philosophy. A survey of idealism, realism, pragmatism, existentialism and analytical philosophy in the twentieth century. Conducted as a seminar. Prerequisite, six semester hours of Philosophy.

PHILOSOPHY 402. (3)

The Existentialists: Kierkegaard to Marcel. Conducted as a seminar. Prerequisite, three semester hours of Philosophy.

PHILOSOPHY 403. (3)

Contemporary Philosophy of Religion. A study of such thinkers as Buber, Marcel, Maritain, Scheler and Tillich.

PHILOSOPHY 404. (3)

Contemporary Ethical Systems. A study of such moral philosophers as G. E. Moore, W. D. Ross, R. M. Hare and Reinhold Niebuhr. Prerequisite, three semester hours in Philosophy. Given in alternate years with Philosophy 403.

HONORS

Honors Course. Special study of some classical or contemporary school or philosopher.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

MESSRS. BURRELL, PEGRAM.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION 301-302. (2-2)

The purpose of this course is to give training in the coaching of football, basketball, baseball, wrestling, and track to those men who expect to coach after graduation. Men who expect to teach in secondary schools will find the course valuable, as oftentimes they are called on to coach one or more sports. The course will require two scheduled lecture periods per week and attendance at the various varsity practices. Elective only for juniors and seniors.

HEALTH EDUCATION 303. (2)

A survey of the basic principles of good health. A study of physiology, anatomy and various diseases. Elective for juniors and seniors.

Only two hours of credit in Physical Education are allowed toward the satisfaction of the 124 hours required for a degree.

PHYSICS

PROFESSORS GILMER, JOYNER; ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR KIESS; ASSISTANT PROFESSOR BEARD; MR. LAWRENCE.

Students contemplating a physics major are advised to register in the freshman year for Mathematics 101-102 and Physics 101-102 (or 111-112). The major requires a minimum of 34 hours, and must include Physics 351-352. Mathematics 301-302 is prerequisite to all courses above the 200 level.

PHYSICS 101-102. (3-3)

General Physics. A survey of classical and modern physics at the elementary level. Corequisite, Physics 151-152.

PHYSICS 103. (1)

An Introduction to Contemporary Physics. A non-mathematical examination of several broad research areas.

PHYSICS 104. (1)

Problems in General Physics. Extensive work in the solving of classical physics problems. This course is designed for the student who intends to continue in the physical sciences, engineering, or mathematics. Admission by consent of the instructor.

PHYSICS 111-112. (3-3)

General Physics. A survey of classical and modern physics, using elementary calculus throughout. Corequisite, Physics 151-152.

PHYSICS 151-152. (1-1)

General Physics Laboratory. An experimental examination of a variety of physical phenomena, along with an introduction to laboratory techniques and procedure.

PHYSICS 201. (3)

Mechanics. Particle dynamics is treated with particular emphasis on harmonic motion, motion in a central force field, and the two body problem.

PHYSICS 202. (3)

Electricity and Magnetism. A study of electrostatics, electrodynamics, dielectrics, magnetism; concluding with Maxwell's equations.

PHYSICS 251-252. (2-2)

Electronics. Aimed at training the student in the design of simple circuits through the use of self-paced laboratory-oriented materials which include some of circuit theory.

PHYSICS 301-302. (3-3)

Modern Physics. The physical foundations for the quantum theory are studied. Schroedinger's equation is introduced and used to analyze elementary aspects of the atomic nucleus and the solid state.

PHYSICS 303. (3)

Wave Properties and Optics. After a brief survey of geometrical optics, the properties of waves common to the entire electromagnetic spectrum are treated.

PHYSICS 304. (3)

Thermodynamics and Statistical Physics. An introduction to kinetic theory and thermodynamics, with a brief survey of statistical mechanics.

PHYSICS 351. (2)

Advanced Laboratory. A laboratory course designed to acquaint the student with the instruments used in basic physical measurements and with the design of experiments.

PHYSICS 352. (2)

Research Participation. Students will conduct experimental and/or theoretical investigations of basic problems in physics under the supervision of the staff.

PHYSICS 401-402. (3-3)

Theoretical Physics. Selected topics investigated in depth using sophisticated mathematical techniques; mostly advanced mechanics and electromagnetic field theory.

PHYSICS 410. (3)

Special Topics. The study of one or more areas of physics not previously covered, such as nuclear physics, advanced optics, solid state, etc. Topics selected according to student interests.

PHYSICS 451. (3)

Research Participation. A continuation of Physics 352.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

PROFESSOR HOLLY; ASSOCIATE PROFESSORS HUBARD, MCCLELLAN.

The requirements for a major in Political Science are as follows:

A minimum of 30 semester hours in Political Science, plus 6 semester hours in American or European history. Fifteen of the 30 hours in Political Science should include Political Science 201-202, 301, 303 or 304, and 305 or 306. Students who expect to enter graduate studies in Political Science are urged to include economics, philosophy, statistics, calculus and computer programming in their undergraduate work.

A concentration in Political Science and Economics will require the completion of a minimum of 18 semester hours in each field and such cognate courses as the departments of Political Science and Economics may prescribe for each individual student.

A concentration in Political Science and History will require the completion of a minimum of 18 semester hours in each field and such cognate courses as the departments of Political Science and History may prescribe for each individual student.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 201-202. (3-3)

The American System of Government. A study of the theory and practice of national, state, and local government in the United States. The constitutional basis of the federal system, the power of the national government, the position of the states and their sub-divisions, and the scope of civil rights are studied, with frequent reference to leading Supreme Court decisions and other primary sources. After the structure of the federal government and its broadening area of functions and services have been considered, the course concludes with an examination of state and local government.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 301. (3)

Introduction to Political Philosophy. An inquiry into the fundamental issues of politics since the founding of political science by Plato and Aristotle. Topics of study include the origin of the State, Natural Law and Natural Rights, Sovereignty, Rule of Law, Liberty, Equality and Justice, with special attention to the various methods of approach to the study of Political Science.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 302. (3)

The American Political Tradition. A survey of the major documents, both public and private, that have shaped American political speculation. Special attention is given to the ideas contained in the Declaration of Independence and to the general principles of the American political system as set forth in the Constitution and The Federalist. Among the issues examined is Natural Law-Natural Rights controversy of the late 18th and early 19th centuries, which later gave rise to the present-day conflict between Conservatism and Liberalism. Prerequisite: Political Science 201-202.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 303-304. (3-3)

Comparative Government. The first semester includes an analysis of the British parliamentary system and concentrates on constitutional development, party politics, and British public policy. The second semester is devoted to a comparative analysis of the French, German, Italian, and Soviet systems.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 305-306. (3-3)

International Relations. The first semester includes a study of various concepts and theories of international relations. The second semester presents a survey of the international relations of various regions: Latin America, Western Europe, the Communist bloc, Far East, South and Southeast Asia, Middle East, and Africa.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 307. (3)

Far East in World Affairs. An area study of the Far East to outline the principal historical, cultural, economic, sociological, and strategic factors which have influenced its role in the international community. Not open to freshmen.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 310. (3)

American Foreign Policy. An analysis of the national interest, national objectives, and role of the United States in the international community. Included is a study of the diplomatic process and the role of the Executive Branch in the formulation of national policy. Prerequisite: Political Science 201-202, or 305-306, or permission of the instructor.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 311-312. (3-3)

Comparative Foreign Policy. Comparative analysis of the foreign policies of the major powers, with emphasis on the factors influencing the formation of policy and relationship to the international system. First semester: the major powers of Western Europe. Second semester: the Communist bloc and non-western powers.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 401-402. (0-6)

American Constitutional Law. In the light of changing political, social, and economic problems in the United States, this study follows the development of the American Constitution through judicial interpretation. The primary basis of study will be Supreme Court cases showing (a) the extent of national power, (b) the constitutional limitations upon state governmental action, (c) the protection of individual liberties, and (d) the nature of the judicial process in the American system of government. Prerequisite: Political Science 201-202.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 403-404. (0-6)

Introductory Survey of Law. The course is designed to give students (1) a practical and cultural appreciation of the place of the law as an institution in modern society, (2) an insight into those principles of law which underlie our free economy and serve as guides to business, and (3) an understanding of the increasing role of government in the economy. Prerequisite: Political Science 201-202 or Economics 101.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 405. (3)

International Law and Organization. A study of the legal and organizational structure of the international system, the processes and forms of international order. Prerequisite: Political Science 305-306.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 406. (3)

World Political Geography. A study of the major political problems of the world related to geographic factors. A comprehensive survey of the geographic components entering into the formation of national policies and strategies. Offered in alternate years. Not open to freshmen.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 407-408. (3)

History of Political Philosophy. A survey of classical and modern political thought, concentrating on the works of the great political thinkers who have figured most prominently in the development of the Western political tradition and the modern rebellion against it. Prerequisite: Political Science 201-202, 301, or Philosophy 301-302.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 410. (3)

Seminar in International Relations. An intensive examination of critical problem areas. One phase of the seminar will be devoted to an exercise in simulation. Offered in alternate years. Prerequisites: Political Science 305-306, 311-312, or approval of instructor.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 412. (3)

Seminar in Recent Political Thought. An intensive examination of the leading studies in political thought by contemporary scholars, emphasizing the recent contributions of Leo Strauss, Eric Voegelin, Hannah Arendt, Bertrand de Jouvenel, Michael Oakeshott, and the modern schools of New Conservatism and the New Left. Prerequisites: Political Science 301 or Philosophy 401 with the permission of the instructor. Open to juniors and seniors only. Offered in alternate years.

POLITICAL SCIENCE 414. (3)

Seminar in Civil Liberties. An intensive examination of Supreme Court decisions dealing primarily with the Bill of Rights and the Reconstruction Amendments, with special attention to recent developments in the modern Court. Prerequisites: Political Science 201-202, 401-402. Open to juniors and seniors only. Offered in alternate years.

PSYCHOLOGY

PROFESSORS ORTNER, SIMES; ASSISTANT PROFESSOR DE WOLFE.

The requirements for a major in psychology are Psychology 202, 203, 204, which must be taken in the order indicated, and 302, 407; in addition, either fifteen hours of psychology at the 300 or 400 level or twelve hours of psychology at the 300 or 400 level and one of the following: Sociology 201, Mathematics 103 (Statistics), Philosophy 302, or such equivalent course as approved by the department with special permission.

Biology 103 is a prerequisite to all psychology courses.

PSYCHOLOGY 202. (4)

Developmental Psychology. An assessment of the areas of development in childhood and adolescence with special emphasis upon case materials in development and maturation, and factors associated with normal and abnormal developmental patterns. Not open to first-semester freshmen.

PSYCHOLOGY 203. (3)

General Experimental Psychology. The application of experimental method to selected problems in sensation, perception, learning, motivation, etc. Emphasis will be given to theory formulation, experimental design, and research techniques. Not open to freshmen.

PSYCHOLOGY 204. (3)

Physiological Psychology. Survey of physiological aspects of behavior with special emphasis on the brain and central nervous system. Also open to Biology or pre-medical majors with the consent of their department chairmen.

PSYCHOLOGY 302. (3)

Psychological Tests and Measurements. A laboratory course in various types of mental and personality tests, rating scales, and other devices used in vocational guidance, personnel selection, and clinical testing. Prerequisites or corequisites: Psychology 202, 203, 204. Two hours lecture. Two and one-half hours laboratory work.

PSYCHOLOGY 304. (3)

Psychology of Personality. The development of personality; methods of measuring and judging personality; the constructs of personality; types and traits of personality. Open to Junior and Senior majors in the Social Sciences with the consent of the instructor.

PSYCHOLOGY 305. (3)

Abnormal Psychology. Description of abnormal behavior; introduction to psychopathology. Prerequisites or corequisites: Psychology 202, 203, 204.

PSYCHOLOGY 306. (3)

Open to all students.

WESTERN MAN

This two-year program is required of all students. Its aim is to provide the comprehensive view of Western culture implicit in liberal education and to counteract the tendency toward the fragmentation of knowledge in strictly departmentalized studies.

Members of various departments participate as a team in teaching this course. The course examines in chronological sequence the most creative societies affecting Western Man, and its study of great books and great ideas includes attention to history, philosophy, literature, art, and political and economic thought. Class work consists of lecture sessions, in which all participants meet together, and discussion sessions, for which small groups meet with faculty leaders.

WESTERN MAN 101-102. (0-10)

A study of the problems facing modern man, Old Testament, Greek civilization, Roman civilization, New Testament, the European Middle Ages and the Renaissance.

WESTERN MAN 201-202. (0-6)

A study of the Reformation in Western Europe, and of European and American civilization to the twentieth century. Prerequisite, Western Man 101-102.

LIVING PHILANTHROPY

Recognition of gifts to Hampden-Sydney for endowment, buildings and equipment:

Peter Johnston—Donor of the original college lands of 98 acres in 1775. A native of Edinburgh, Scotland; resident of Prince Edward County; merchant; member of the original Board of Trustees; and grandfather of General Joseph E. Johnston.

Commonwealth of Virginia—Escheated lands donated to the college; 412 acres in 1784; 1,200 acres in 1794.

Richard Morton Venable—Donor in 1899 of Union Theological Seminary buildings and lands at Hampden-Sydney. Buildings included in this gift were Penshurst residence, Venable dormitory, Middlecourt residence, Atkinson Administration hall, library building. Major Venable was a member of the Class of 1857; a native of Charlotte County; lawyer; resident of Baltimore, Maryland and a descendant of Nathaniel Venable, one of the founding Trustees of the college.

Samuel Packwood Morton, Jr.—Donor in 1936 of Morton Hall, the academic classroom building, as a memorial to Captain John Morton, his great, great grandfather, a member of the founding Board of Trustees. Mr. Morton was a resident of Baltimore, Maryland and owner of Morton Coffee Company, coffee importers and roasters.

General Education Board, New York—Donor of gifts during 1930's and 1940's totalling $244,000 as additions to the college's permanent endowment fund. The General Education Board was established in 1920 by the late John Rockefeller for the promotion of education in the United States.

Booker-Stebbins Student Loan Fund—Consolidated student loan fund established through separate wills of William D. Booker of Baltimore, Maryland, Class of 1863, in memory of his brother Samuel R. Booker, Class of 1870 and Joseph Stebbins of Halifax County, Virginia, Class of 1893. Income from the principal of the fund is available as loans to assist worthy students with their education at Hampden-Sydney.

William Whitfield Williamson—A bequest of approximately $180,000 received in 1948 from Mr. Williamson, a leading Presbyterian layman and tobacconist of Danville, Virginia. Mr. Williamson was the father and grandfather of five Hampden-Sydney graduates.

Ford Foundation, New York—Gifts received in 1956 and 1957 totalling $80,500 from the Ford Foundation to be added to the college's permanent endowment funds, income from which is to be used for faculty salaries.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Alexander—Bequests received in 1958 under the wills of George H. and Minnie B. Alexander of Norfolk, Virginia totalling approximately $235,000 as an addition to the college's permanent endowment funds. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander were devoted Presbyterians who became interested in the college through their pastor, Dr. W. H. T. Squires, a member of the Class of 1895, and former college Trustee. In recognition of their gift to the college the Trustees have established the George H. and Minnie Bradley Alexander Chair of Physics.

George R. Cannon—A bequest received in 1959 from the estate of George R. Cannon of Richmond, Virginia totalling $118,000 as an addition to the college's permanent endowment.

Albert Fuller Patton—A perpetual trust established in 1959 through the will of Mr. Patton, a member of the Class of 1904 and former Trustee of the college. A Danville, Virginia, businessman, the income from Mr. Patton's trust represents an endowment of approximately $1,000,000. In recognition of his gift to the college the Trustees have established the Albert Fuller Patton Chair of Economics.

Horace A. Gray, Jr.—A $10,000 bequest received in 1958 under the will of Mr. Gray as an addition to the college's permanent endowment funds. Mr. Gray, a Richmond industrialist, was a member of the college Board of Trustees.

Francis Bartlett Converse—Bequest received in 1960 and 1961 from the donor's estate totalling approximately $335,000 as an addition to the college's permanent endowment funds. A native of Louisville, Kentucky and resident of Westport, Connecticut, Mr.

Converse was a member of the Class of 1890 and an inventor who helped develop the first automobile tires. In recognition of his gift to the college the Trustees have established the Francis Bartlett Converse Chair of Romance Languages.

Wycliffe Cecil Jackson—A bequest received in 1961 of approximately $350,000 from Mr. Jackson of Griffin, Georgia as an addition to the college's permanent endowment funds. Mr. Jackson, a native of Amelia County, Virginia and a member of the Class of 1903, was a textile executive associated with the Dundee Cotton Mills of Griffin, Georgia. In recognition of his gift to the college the Trustees have established the Wycliffe Cecil Jackson Chair of Philosophy.

Henry Straughan Stokes—A bequest received in 1963 of $87,000 from the estate of Mr. H. Straughan Stokes of Winston-Salem, North Carolina to be added to the college's permanent endowment funds. A member of the Class of 1900, Mr. Stokes was Superintendent of Leaf Processing for R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

Willoughby Shelton Hundley—Through the generosity of Mr. W. S. Hundley of Boydton, Virginia, a member of the Class of 1912, the Hundley Stadium was erected in 1964 at Death Valley and given by Mr. Hundley in honor of his classmates.

Benjamin Hunter Dupuy—A bequest in 1966 of $36,000 was received from the estate of Mr. Benjamin H. Dupuy of Waterbury, Connecticut, as an addition to the college's permanent endowment funds. Mr. Dupuy was a descendant of Joe Watkins of Charlotte County, Virginia, a Charter Trustee of the college, and became interested in the college through his uncle, Benjamin Hunter Dupuy, Class of 1873.

Eugene C. Hurt—A bequest from Mr. Eugene C. Hurt of Chatham, Virginia was left to the college in 1966 as an addition to the college's permanent endowment funds. An attorney and devoted Presbyterian layman, his bequest to the college will approximate one-third of a million dollar estate. In recognition of his gift to the permanent funds of the college the Trustees have established the Eugene C. Hurt Chair of English.

Francis Record Whitehouse—Construction of Whitehouse Hall in 1967 was made possible through the generous gifts of Dr. Francis

R. Whitehouse of Lynchburg, Virginia, a member of the Class of 1934 and a Trustee of the college. The residence hall is named in memory of Dr. Whitehouse's parents, Lawrence Butts and Marguerite Record Whitehouse.

Dr. Alexander Thompson—A gift of $10,000 as an addition to the college's permanent funds was made by Dr. Alexander Thompson of Cincinnati as a memorial to his father-in-law, Dr. Charles W. Dabney and to Dr. Robert Lewis Dabney, his father, in recognition of their lifetime services to the cause and spirit of true education.

Mary S. Royster Foundation—Gifts to the permanent endowment funds of the college in memory of Mrs. Mary S. Royster have been received from Mr. F. S. Royster, her husband, and their children, Mrs. Fannie R. Cooke, Mrs. Mary R. White, Mr. F. S. Royster, Jr. and Mr. William S. Royster.

Recognition of other gifts for scholarships:

The Baker Scholarships—From 3 to 5 Baker Scholarships are awarded each year to entering freshmen through the generosity of the George F. Baker Trust of New York. The Trust was created by the will of Mr. George F. Baker, Jr., a former Chairman of the Board of the First National Bank of New York, and the scholarships are given in recognition of leadership by those students who plan a career in business. The scholarship is a four year award and meets as nearly as possible the full financial needs of each scholar.

The Max C. Fleischmann Foundation—Since 1953 the Max C. Fleischmann Foundation of Reno, Nevada has annually awarded a number of scholarships to deserving students of promise. The Fleischmann Loan-Cancellation Scholarship provides that each recipient attain an academic goal as set by the Student Aid Committee. Those recipients achieving this academic goal receive a scholarship while those students who fail to attain their goal receive a loan, repayable after graduation.

James Buckner Massey Scholarship—Each year since 1957 a $250 scholarship has been made possible through gifts of Dr. F. M. Ryburn of Lubbock, Texas in memory of Dr. James B. Massey, long time Professor of Bible at Hampden-Sydney. Preference is to be given to sons of ministers.

McGuire-Boyd Scholarship—Established through annual gifts since 1965 by James Nalle Boyd, a member of the Class of 1958 and John Peyton McGuire Boyd, a member of the Class of 1964, of Richmond, Virginia in memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Boyd. The scholarship, up to full need, is to be awarded to a deserving upperclassman displaying outstanding qualities of character and leadership. Academic and athletic achievement as well as financial need are taken into consideration.

Algernon Sydney Sullivan Foundation—Annual grants from the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Foundation of New York since 1936 have provided scholarships at Hampden-Sydney in memory of Algernon Sydney Sullivan, founder and first president of the New York Southern Society. The scholarships are awarded to deserving students to stimulate their spiritual development by encouraging their study of the life of Algernon Sydney Sullivan. To that end, each recipient is required to read the biography of Mr. Sullivan and to submit an essay expressing the student's appreciation of life's finer qualities as exemplified by Algernon Sydney Sullivan.

Gifts for trophies and awards:

The Gammon Cup—The family of Dr. Edgar G. Gammon, pastor of College Church 1917-23 and President of the college 1939-55, annually awards a cup in his memory to the member of the graduating class who has best served the college. Character, scholarship and athletic ability are considered.

Algernon Sydney Sullivan Medallion—In honor of its first president, Algernon Sydney Sullivan, the New York Southern Society annually presents the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Medallions. One recipient is a member of the graduating class who has distinguished himself for excellence of character and generous service to his fellows. The other recipient is chosen from those friends of the college who have been conspicuously helpful to and associated with the institution and its efforts to encourage and preserve a high standard of morals.

The Kearfott Stone Memorial—A gift to the college's permanent endowment funds from Dr. and Mrs. Harry Benjamin Stone of Roanoke, Virginia in 1939, has established a fund in memory of their gifted son, Kearfott, whose death occurred soon after his graduation from Hampden-Sydney in 1935. The annual income from this memorial fund is devoted to music and music appreciation on the campus.

Anna Carrington Harrison Award—Established as a memorial to his mother by Mr. Fred N. Harrison of Richmond, Virginia in recognition of that student who shows the most constructive leadership during the year. The annual award consists of $50 in cash and a trophy.

Camilla Virginia Taylor Crawley Music Award—Since 1948 annual gifts to the college from Charles William Crawley, Margaret Alma Crawley and Thomas Edward Crawley have been used to establish the Camilla Virginia Taylor Crawley Music Memorial. The annual award of $100 is made to that student who has rendered outstanding service to the development of music in the college and shows promise in that field. The award is to be used by the recipient to finance further training which will equip him to serve in the musical activities of the college.

Ray A. Moore Award—The Most Valuable Player Award in each major sport is given in honor of Dr. Ray Atkinson Moore, Class of '00, long-time college physician, 1928-1962, and College Physician Emeritus 1962- . . . An avid sports enthusiast, Dr. Moore is a loyal supporter of all Tiger athletic teams. The award has been permanently endowed by Dr. Moore's sons: Ray A., Jr., Class of '41; Robert P., Class of '43; John A., Class of '45; and W. Alexander, Class of '51.

The H. B. Overcash Prize—This prize, given annually by Dr. W. Glenn Hurt, '60, of Richmond, is awarded on the nomination of Chi Beta Phi Scientific Fraternity to the most outstanding junior pre-medical student in biology.

Macon Reed Award—An annual award of $100 is given to the best sophomore mathematician in memory of Mr. Reed, Professor of Mathematics from 1922 to 1950 and Dean of the College from 1923 to 1936, by his sons Macon Reed, Jr. and Frederick Venable Reed.

David C. Wilson Memorial Greek Prize—Established through gifts to the permanent endowment funds of the college by Mr. and Mrs. Shelton H. Short, Jr. of Chase City, Virginia and other friends and alumni of the college in memory of Dr. David C. Wilson, Professor of Greek 1923-57 and Dean of the College 1939-54. This annual award of $50 is given to the student showing most proficiency and promise in Greek.
